

Humphrey, McGovern triumph

By STEVE GERSTEL
United Press International
Hubert H. Humphrey won his fourth presidential primary Tuesday, swamping George C. Wallace by two-to-one in West Virginia, while George S. McGovern averted his first serious primary setback with a come-from-behind victory over Humphrey in Nebraska.

The primaries again proved indecisive to the presidential aspirations of Humphrey and McGovern, enhancing the importance of their major, pre-convention showdown in California June 6.

In a "beauty contest" primary limited to the two candidates, Humphrey trounced Wallace in West Virginia by a bigger margin than he did last week in Indiana and, once again, stopped Alabama's governor from breaking through for a victory north of the Mason-Dixon line.

McGovern, once heavily favored after an intensive, year-long organizational effort in Nebraska, his neighbor state, barely managed to beat Humphrey who jumped in only after late polls showed him with a chance for a major upset.

Beset by charges that his positions on abortion, marijuana, and amnesty for draft evaders were "radical," McGovern was rescued by a heavy student vote in Lincoln and the ballots of farmers and small townsmen after dropping populous Omaha to Humphrey.

A loss to Humphrey in Nebraska—marked all along as McGovern territory—would have been a distinct setback for the South Dakotan's strategy, aimed at building momentum for the California primary. Even in victory, the narrow margin of his win failed to give McGovern any edge over Humphrey.

West Virginia was by far Humphrey's most impressive win. Humphrey managed to earn a majority of the vote, a goal that had eluded him in previous primaries.

In Nebraska, with 95 per cent of the vote reported, McGovern led with 72,917 or 41 per cent. Humphrey was second with 62,819 or 36 per cent, and Wallace was third with 22,686 or 13 per cent. The rest of the candidates received a scattering of votes with no one getting more than 3 per cent.

With 76 per cent tallied in W. Va., Humphrey led with 182,077 or 68 per cent. Wallace had 86,386 or 32 per cent.

In separate contests, West Virginia elected 35 delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach July 10 and Nebraska elected 22 of its 24.

But the number of delegates entered were so large and the ballot so complicated, no results were expected before later today, at the earliest. McGovern's lead in delegate votes was not threatened.

President Nixon strolled away in Nebraska's Republican primary over token opposition. There was no preference primary for the GOP in Nebraska.

John D. (Jay) Rockefeller IV easily won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in West Virginia and a shot at Republican Gov. Arch Moore.

MINE SURVIVOR

MINER RON FLORY, one of two survivors of Sunshine Mine disaster in north Idaho, has pulse checked by Dr. Ernest Gnaedinger at 3,700 foot level of mine. Also found alive with Flory was miner Tom Wilkinson. Both are hospitalized. (UPI)

Ex-Rupert man, father-in-law found dead in north Idaho mine

RUPERT — A former Rupert man trapped in the Sunshine Mine since May 2, and his father-in-law who had re-entered the mine in a rescue attempt, were found dead Tuesday.

Relatives of Don Firkins in Rupert said the bodies of the 38-year-old miner and his father-in-law, Virgil Bebb, Osborn were found at the 3,700 foot level Tuesday. Bebb had escaped from the mine when fire broke out May 2, but had gone back in last Wednesday or Thursday to help in rescue operations. He had not been seen since.

Rescue workers who found the bodies at the 3,700 foot level, scene of the original fire, said the men had apparently been eating lunch when fire broke out Monday, releasing poisonous gas into the level where they had barricaded themselves. They apparently died instantly while seated at a table in the chamber.

Firkins' sister, Lorna Firkins, Rupert, said her brother had been at the 5,800 foot level on May 2.

She said men who found the bodies Tuesday said it appeared the men in Firkins' group had gone to the 3,700 level to attempt to get other miners out.

Firkins, who had been a miner since 1954, had had extensive mine fire training, his mother, Mrs. Forestine Firkins, Rupert, said last week.

Mrs. Firkins and two other sons, Dick Firkins and Gene Firkins, traveled to Kellogg last week. Miss Firkins said today her brother, Dick, who also has been trained in mine fire fighting, was to enter the Sunshine today to assist in rescue operations.

Family members are leaving today for Kellogg where funeral services will be held.

Jury calls mine union officials

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — W.A. "Tony" Boyle, president of the United Mine Workers (UMW), and three other union officials were summoned to appear Wednesday before a federal grand jury here.

U.S. District Attorney Richard Thornburgh said in addition to Boyle, others ordered to appear were Suzanne Richards, Boyle's assistant; William Turnblazer, president of UMW District 10, and Wayne Channel, assistant to UMW Secretary-Treasurer John Owens.

Thornburgh would not make any other comment concerning the appearance of Boyle and the others because of the secretive nature of grand jury proceedings.

The same grand jury last week indicted Albert Pass, a member of the UMW Executive Board on charges of conspiracy.

Rescue effort set at Kellogg

KELLOGG (UPI) — Plans were being laid today for a major rescue effort at the Sunshine Mine after two survivors of the May 2 disaster were brought out Tuesday.

Reports from the mine late this morning indicated that a large crew is to be sent down on a big elevator to look for other possible survivors or the bodies of victims still deep within the mine.

Twenty-five more bodies were brought out of the mine — swept by smoke and gas from a fire which broke out May 2 — Tuesday night. Bodies of 11 of the 47 confirmed victims still remain underground, and 44 miners are still missing.

US slates full Viet arms clamp

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird indicated today the United States will try to stop all methods of delivering weapons to North Vietnam, by sea or by air, in addition to the mining of seven harbors.

Laird also suggested that ships now in North Vietnam's ports will be subject to attack if they attempt to unload their cargoes.

"We will take those actions necessary to prevent the

US jets destroy 7 MIGs

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. F4 Phantom escorts today shot down seven MIGs — only the second time of the war there has been such a high toll of the Soviet-built planes. It brought to 13 the number shot down this week — a record.

The Pentagon said the only other time seven of the MIGs were shot down in one day was Jan. 2, 1967, also in massive raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Hanoi radio in reporting what appeared to be the most intensive aerial dogfights on record claimed 14 American planes were shot down and "many" American pilots captured. The U.S. command had no comment on the Saigon reports.

In another escalation of the war, U.S. destroyers were reported to have bombarded Haiphong Harbor, and Hanoi Radio said two were damaged by shore batteries. The U.S. command announced today's raids in Saigon and said the raids and naval bombardments ordered by President Nixon would continue indefinitely.

The Communist offensive in South Vietnam reached such a "critical" state that President Nguyen Van Thieu proclaimed nationwide martial law effective at midnight (noon EDT today). The mayor of Saigon warned of imminent rocket and artillery attacks on Saigon itself.

In addition to bombing attacks on Hanoi and the port of Haiphong, other U.S. planes struck Communist rail lines and highways linking the North Vietnamese capital to China. One major raid was reported at Yen Bai, 85 miles from the China border and a major railroad marshalling yard.

Although the U.S. command had no immediate report on U.S. losses over Hanoi-Haiphong, it announced the loss of four other planes including a Chinook helicopter 20 miles from Saigon with the deaths of 32 Americans. The other planes were two F4s in the Demilitarized Zone and Quang Tri, and a Navy Vigilante which disappeared over North Vietnam. Five of the six crewmen were missing.

Demos back pullout date

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats on the House Foreign Affairs Committee voted today in favor of withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam by Oct. 1, subject to release by Hanoi of American prisoners.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said 14 of 15 of the 21 Democrats on the panel attended a caucus of Committee Democrats and approved the resolution by voice vote.

Morgan, who has opposed measures in the past that would have set a withdrawal date, said he voted for the proposal "because the President Monday night set a four month withdrawal deadline himself."

One committee source said an effort to write a ceasefire provision into today's resolution failed on an 84 vote.

Amid the sharpest antiwar outcry on Capitol Hill since the Cambodian invasion two years ago, the Senate headed swiftly toward a vote on legislation that would cut off war funds four months after North Vietnam agrees to release its U.S. prisoners. A similar move appeared to be developing in the House.

The out-in-four-months promise was essentially the offer Nixon made to Hanoi Monday night when he ordered North Vietnam blockaded — a decision that triggered such an angry outburst in the House and Senate that any hope Nixon might have had for national unity behind his new policy appeared crushed.

Senate Democrats voted 29 to 14 in a closed-door caucus Tuesday not to support the blockade; Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., took the House floor amid boos and catcalls to demand that Nixon be impeached; and shouting antiwar demonstrators were dragged from the visitors galleries while opponents of the war from both parties flooded press desks with a stream of releases denouncing the mining of North Vietnam ports and the bombing of rail links to China as an unnecessary gamble to world peace.

Republican leaders, backed by some Democrats who have supported Nixon's policies in Vietnam, urged their colleagues to unite behind the President.

But even in the House, where antiwar measures repeatedly have failed in the past, a move was swiftly developing in the Foreign Affairs Committee to legislate an end to American involvement.

Laird says pullout to follow schedule

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said today that the withdrawal of United States troops from South Vietnam would continue despite the enemy offensive and the new step-up of the war.

Laird told a news conference that the withdrawal program would "meet or beat" President Nixon's goal of reducing American ground forces in Vietnam to 49,000 by July 1.

Laird said at a nationally broadcast news conference that the South Vietnamese were "holding fast in a very difficult ground combat."

He said that the South Vietnamese forces face "additional attacks" which he said were made possible by the use of modernized equipment "supplied by the Soviet Union for the first time this year."

TF volunteers net $30,000 for Y pool

TWIN FALLS — Volunteer teams from the YM-YWCA collected $30,167 in cash and pledges in a one-day campaign, Charles Upton, director, said today.

The drive Tuesday raised revenue for construction of a year around swimming pool to $137,000. The total project estimate is $218,000, and officials of the Y hope to continue receiving revenue through donations and gifts during the construction period.

Upton said plans for the pool are now in the hands of the Department of Health for final approval. The Y plans to go ahead with construction as soon as plans are returned.

Upton said about 50 per cent of the drive-workers turned in cards. The drive will be held open long enough to allow others to complete their call-backs and to obtain information from some large business firms with headquarters out of state.

Goal of the drive had been $70,000. While this has not been reached, officials said they feel the results were good for one day's time. Upton said it will be up to the board of directors to decide what further action should be taken at this time.

The director said he would estimate another $10,000 to $15,000 can easily be added to the figure through routine follow-up activities.

Gem Junior Miss named pageant 4th runner-up

ANNE HAGERMAN
4th runner-up

WENDELL — Idaho's Junior Miss, Ann Hagerman, 17, Wendell, was named fourth runner-up in the National Junior Miss Contest Tuesday night in Mobile, Ala.

Miss Hagerman, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard H. Hagerman, was named one of the five finalists. She played a piano solo, "The Cat and the Mouse," by Aaron Copland, in the final competition.

She received a scholarship to the college of her choice for being chosen fourth runner-up.

The girls in the contest were judged on a point basis with the one winning the most points being crowned the new Junior Miss. Poise and appearance counted 15 per cent; youth fitness, 15 per cent; scholarship achievement, 15 per cent (Miss Hagerman has a 3.9 grade point average); creative and performing arts, 20 per cent, and judges interview, 35 per cent.

Each of the five finalists named from 10 semi-finalist girls had to discuss spontaneously a topic given to them in the final competition.

She plans to attend the College of Idaho, Caldwell, or Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore., majoring in music.

The Junior Miss pageant began April 28 in Mobile, Ala.

Hansen asks for support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, Tuesday termed "courageous" President Nixon's latest actions to bring an early end to the fighting in Indochina.

He called for broad public support of efforts aimed at achieving a peaceful settlement of the conflict.

"President Nixon has made a courageous decision. It reflects a determination to end the fighting at the earliest possible date in a manner that will help assure a lasting peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

"The President needs and deserves the support of all Americans in his efforts to stop the flow of weapons of destruction to the enemy, to resist the invasion that is inflicting death and untold misery on innocent South Vietnamese civilians and to assure the safety of withdrawing American forces."

"During the critical period we join in the hope that the actions taken by the President will be successful and that the generous peace terms he has offered will be accepted, leading to a negotiated settlement of the conflict," Hansen said.

Officials meet

Access road study asked

TWIN FALLS — Two federal departments will be asked to make a study in connection with upgrading access roads to the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

Don Samuelson, former governor of Idaho who now has headquarters at Seattle, said "I know you folks have a problem here which should be solved and I will request a study. After the two federal departments complete such a study there would follow a conference with the Idaho Department of Highways."

The former governor conferred with airport commission members at a special session held at Joslin Field. Highway transportation to the Twin Falls field, he was told, was a priority item.

Possibility exists that rerouting of Highway 93 will take place in the near future because of the replacement of the "ailing" Perrine Bridge. One possible rerouting plan calls for the highway to pass immediately east of the airport after swinging away from the present highway near Hollister.

Not candidate

BY O. ALGUS KELKER
Editor, Times-News

TWIN FALLS — Don Samuelson will not be a candidate for the United States Senate seat to be vacated by Sen. Len Jordan.

The former Idaho governor, the Times-News learned today, will formally announce his decision later this month. He is now regional representative of the secretary of transportation and is based at Seattle.

Samuelson's plans have been a well-kept secret and have given rise to many rumors. Had he decided to enter the Senate race on the Republican ticket he would have had four opponents, all campaigning for the past several weeks.

The Times-News also learned the decision to not seek the Senate seat in the August primary does not mean Samuelson could be considered "out of politics at some future time."

Two years from now — in 1974 — he could seek the post of governor, which he lost to Cecil Andrus in 1970, or he could go for a congressional seat. In any event the various options remain open.

Samuelson's decision not to run for the U. S. Senate seat will be made in personal letters which will be sent to scores of friends in Idaho. It is expected he will also release a press statement at that time.

Burley OES installs

BURLEY New officers were installed Monday for Evergreen Chapter No. 46 Order of Eastern Star in a ceremony at Masonic Temple.

S. Idaho train runs foreseen

TWIN FALLS — Don Samuelson predicted Tuesday that passenger train service would return to southern Idaho.

In Twin Falls for conferences with the City Council and the airport commissioners, the regional representative of the secretary of transportation said the "matter is under study now."

"I cannot predict how long it will be before passenger service will come again," he said in an interview, "but I am certain that it will return."

He said that Amtrak was "gaining headway" and that new motor trains are in the testing stage and such a train as this might well be the type to take to Idaho's rails.

TF bands play today

Official City and County Newspaper
Pursuant to Section 40-106 Idaho Code, Thursday is hereby designated as the day of the week on which legal notices will be published. Published daily and Sunday, except Saturdays, at 131 Third Street West, Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, by Magic Valley Newspapers, Inc. Entered as second class mail matter April 8, 1918, at the post office in Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, under the act of March 8, 1879.

Hijacking

The two latest hijacking incidents prove once more that steps taken to stop them are insufficient.

The tragedy of the whole mess is the fact passengers and crew members really have no sure way to protect themselves. It will be only a matter of time before one of these idiots will actually destroy a plane in the air. It stands without reason that anyone carrying out a hijacking has to be mentally ill.

We agree with an official of Eastern Airlines — owners of the plane diverted to Central America — who said people such as these hijackers should be executed. Handing them with "kid" gloves has not worked.

Actually, the place to stop any such hijacking attempt, or bomb threat, is before that individual even gets on the plane. After he boards, then the matter becomes more complicated.

Recently a local citizen made some sort of bomb "statement" at the Twin Falls City-County Airport when a Hughes Airwest jet was boarding passengers.

The incident was passed off as a joke — or a statement in jest. No action was carried out in that case. The lack of action on the part of the FBI and of local law enforcement officials was disappointing in that the "joke" was not laughable for members of the crew of that plane or passengers of that plane or Airwest station personnel who were servicing that plane. The lack of positive action did little to make some other person think twice before creating another such "humorous" situation.

Backing Nixon

Within 15 minutes after President Nixon completed his crisis talk over television Monday evening we made the first of 15 calls to citizens of this area inquiring as to their feelings in the matter.

We asked each person called: "Do you back the President in this action?"

Of the total number of telephone calls made, 11 were picked at random from the first 11 listings in alphabetical order. In other words, one person at random from those whose name started with A, those who started with B, those who started with C and so on.

Then we called four other people — people we knew personally. One was a physician, one a lawyer, one a businessman and the other a woman secretary.

The results of the query showed President Nixon was backed in his latest move in his quest for peace.

Of the first 11 called, two had not heard the speech. The next two were against his latest move and said they still favored complete and immediate withdrawal. The next seven called at random all were in favor of the move the President had taken.

Among the four people known to us the physician, the businessman and the woman secretary backed the President. The lawyer doubted the wisdom of the step but did not favor immediate withdrawal as a remedy. He suggested continuation of the withdrawal now underway and elimination of the bombing of North Vietnam by U.S. planes. He said he thought mining of the harbors, as announced by President Nixon, would lead to war with Russia.

So far we have the opinions of 15 area residents. Two did not have an opinion because they did not hear the speech. Three were against the step President Nixon had taken. Ten thought he had done the right thing and supported him.

MR. SPECTATOR

Ways To Be A Lady

The California Senate put an O.K. on "Ms" as an identification for women registering to vote. Makes the ballot more secret.

Actually, "Ms" is more a non-identification. Why not "N" for neuter?

A "Mrs." sets a woman apart as claimed. Means she's a filly who's won a claiming race.

A "Miss" sets a woman apart, too. It suggests she's a kind of knight prowler.

"Ms" is part of "Mrs." The "Mr." is silent.

The "Ms" probably doesn't do the "Mr.'s" ego any good. Instead of pointing with pride, she won't even admit he exists.

The time may come when addressing a female as "Miss" or "Mrs." will be undue familiarity. Then things will really be "Ms-ed" up.

MANY BUTTS ABOUT IT
British cigarette makers are trying for a synthetic. Sounds like the joke of a butt.

One cigarette maker has tried four parts pulpwood and one part tobacco. It figures to be a popular brand.

The wood pulp cigarette "looks, smells, burns and tastes" like regular tobacco, says the maker. Kind of makes you pine to try one.

Another British cigarette maker is trying a charcoal cloth filter. A grate smoke and you tend to cut down.

The British have spent $10 million trying to satisfy smokers who worry about their health. They're cooperating in a package deal.

So far it comes out to a cigarette maker is a bag of bones and a hank of hair, but a good cigarette is a smoke.

PILE OF JUNK

Dear Mr. Spectator:
An $83 million junk pile on the moon. Wow! That $8 million moon buggy would furnish a lot of transportation for the elderly.

The $25 million scientific insurance package. That would furnish a lot of research material on cancer and other diseases.

A total of $30 million worth of other pieces of equipment would build homes for the poor and homeless of our land.

Some 20 million Americans over 65 are led to believe old "Unk" is broke. Doesn't sound like it to this United States citizen.

The book of Genesis tells us that the earth, sun, moon and stars were all formed at the same time. So if it's rocks these boys want to study, just send them (with their moon buggy) to Lincoln Courts. We'll give them all the rocks they would like, all wrapped up in red, white and blue ribbon. And all for free.

ANDREW TULLY

It's A Pillar Of Truth

WASHINGTON — In recent weeks, this pillar of truth and probity has been bombarded with letters from females denouncing it as a citadel of male chauvinist pigism. Well, all right. It is the difference of opinion that makes a horse race.

But whether by coincidence — or calculation financed by the Ford Foundation — 90 per cent of these missives warn of a movement afoot to put housekeeping on a 40-hour week, with a minimum wage and the right to strike. They paint a future in which married men will be required by law to negotiate with the Amalgamated Union of Kitchen Drudges (AFL-CIO). Instead of settling matrimonial problems with a box of French bonbons or a fifth of gin.

As I understand it, the wife's wages would be in addition to the money allotted by the husband for support of the household and children. Papa's worldly goods would continue to belong mutually to man and wife, but the weekly pay check would be hers, all hers.

I swear, I sometimes believe that women desire to so arrange the affairs of the nation as to make marriage financially impossible, if not a crime punishable by a week on the rack. Faced with the prospect of paying a wife 200 clams a week, with time and half for overtime, and semi-annual reviews by the National Labor Relations Board, most males of my ken would opt for the life of a Restoration rake surrounded by playthings for an hour whose only demands on their purse would be an occasional bauble of diamonds and twice-weekly dinners at Sans Souci.

Those innocent lads who took the plunge, anyway, shortly would discover that romance was dead. A man tempted to whisper sweet nothings in a pearly ear or lovingly pinch a derriere would think twice, lest he be hauled up before a fact-finding board headed by Bella Abzug and fined $500 for imposing upon his wife duties not covered by the latest union contract.

Call me old-fashioned or even a relic of the Court of Versailles, but I am not sure I want my evening meal subjected to a ruling by an arbitration board. If I wish to ingest a second helping to help steel me against the rigors of modern living, I do not want the ball of feminine fluff across the table announcing "That'll be one-fifty extra, Precious Baby."

Given a wives' union, the procedure for popping the question would have to be drastically overhauled. No more of that spreading a handkerchief daintily on the floor and speaking from the knee about true love and vine-covered cottages. What the tomato will demand to know, in writing, is whether lover boy is earning the wherewithal to pay the standard rate for dishwashing, dusting and bed-making, plus bonuses for floor scrubbing.

It seems to me that marriage, already a touch-and-go enterprise, would be at least a touch more nerve-wracking for the male constantly confronted with the threat of a walkout. Would a husband dare to invite his boss home to dinner knowing that the local's deadline had expired and entry to the nest might be barred by a battalion of pickets? Even if his mate were willing, the average man might find it both embarrassing and inconvenient to make his way to the connubial cot through a horde of strikers chanting "Scab!"

I hope my female correspondents are pulling my leg and that the threat to join George Meany's lodge is merely a ploy to squeeze more emeralds and orchids out of the submissive sex. After all, girls have been adept at the art of intimidation since Eve conned Adam, and women consider it chic these days to talk femib even while demanding that hubby tell them they're pretty when he kisses them goodbye in the morning.

Besides, we chauvinist pigs do have a trump card. Despite Gloria Steinem, most females still have private thoughts concerning the patter of little feet and in some quarters there is a belief that men play a role in producing the sprouts that go with those feet.

"Suddenly I Feel Wanted!"

An Understatement

WASHINGTON — I guess it would be an understatement to say that things are not going as well in Indochina as the President planned. Most Americans are quite confused about it and are wondering why I was, too, until I spoke to my friend Kaminsky in a bar the other night.

Kaminsky raised a frightening thought when he said, "The Americans have always assumed that the President of the United States has information at his disposal that the rest of us don't."

"Of course," I said. "Everyone knows that."

"Well, suppose he doesn't? Suppose the President doesn't know any more about what is going on than we do?"

"That's impossible, Kaminsky," I said. "The President knows secrets that none of us would dream of."

"We like to think that," he replied. "But suppose what he knows is wrong?"

"It can't be wrong," The President has every source of information in this country available to him, from the CIA to the Pentagon, to the embassy in Saigon. Their reports don't lie.

"Well, how do you explain the President's assurances for the past three-and-a-half years that Vietnamization was working?"

"It was working when he said it was working. It just isn't working too well now. You can't expect Vietnamization to work ALL the time."

"But suppose the reports the President read were overly optimistic to make the people in the field look good? How would the President know the truth?"

"No one would do that," I protested. "They know the President relies on that information to make far-reaching decisions."

"True, but have you ever heard of a president getting a PESSIMISTIC report from Indochina?"

"Not until recently," I admitted. "Kaminsky, you are making me very nervous."

"I am not being critical of the President," Kaminsky said. "I don't think President Kennedy or President Johnson received any more honest reports than President Nixon. Maybe that's why we've been in Vietnam for 10 years. Anyone ever stationed in Vietnam has always assured the President in office that things were going well. The only people who didn't believe the reports were those who read the newspapers and watched the war on television.

"The problem with our presidents is that they refused to believe what they read in the newspapers because the secret reports they received said the exact opposite."

"Then what you're saying, Kaminsky, is that the people who read the newspapers know more about what was going on in Indochina than the Presidents of the United States?"

"Of course. You must remember that when you're President you trust people who agree with you more than people who disagree with you. Why would a President believe a news story that makes his policy look bad?"

"He wouldn't," I admitted.

"Particularly during an election year. But if we can't believe the President knows more than we do, then it takes all the fun out of having a President. I still believe the President has lots of secrets that he isn't telling us."

"Possibly," Kaminsky said. "But you must keep in mind that the fact that something is secret doesn't necessarily make it true, and the fact that something is true doesn't necessarily make it secret."

Kaminsky seemed pleased with himself. "Would you like to buy me another drink?"

"No," I replied.

Crime Keys

WASHINGTON — A number of private and government studies now seem agreed on one real dent in crime in this country can be achieved until illegal gambling and heroin can be brought under control. Illicit gambling brings $20 billion a year to finance the syndicates and bankroll loansharking, the infiltration of legitimate business, prostitution and a host of other illegal pursuits.

The process snowballs. Loanshark victims are pressured into theft and hijacking. Infiltrated "legitimate" firms are used for distributing stolen goods.

One recent study says flatly the criminal justice system's inability to curb urban crime can, in many respects, be attributed to heroin addiction. Some criminal court judges have found that 75 per cent of all the cases they try involve defendants with a history of heroin use.

It is not news that many, perhaps most, heroin users must turn to crime to support their habit.

But with these conclusions on gambling and heroin at hand, it is strikingly evident that, to date, very little headway has been made in drying up either. Several states have experimented with legalized lotteries, off-track betting and other forms of government-controlled gambling. This far there is no convincing evidence these states are successfully competing with the numbers men and other syndicate types. For one, no way has been found whereby the state can match the handy neighborhood runner, the ease of credit (backed by enforcers) and the secrecy of the illegitimate operator (which permits tax evasion).

Probably more concentrated attacks on the crime syndicates have been carried out these past few years than at any time in the past. Arrests have reached new records. But there is no indication that "syndicate strength" has been sapped.

The studies suggest, in fact, that the underworld is growing in power.

The heroin situation is no brighter. Despite some highly skilled police work, nationally and internationally, some brilliant diplomatic negotiations with Turkey, Laos, France and other lands, and truly extensive penetration of some international heroin syndicates, there is no sign the drug traffic is broken or going into a decline.

All this is true despite the strategically sensible decision to concentrate on the major syndicates and on finding the weak links in those syndicates. Thus the effort has not been spread overly thin by going after every pusher and user, which would have been like dipping water out of the ocean with a teaspoon.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Nerve System

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain the sympathetic nerve to me? Our son, 40, had a leg problem, and difficulty in walking, and has had an operation on the nerve.

Does this have anything to do with Addison's disease? Will diet help him? Or Drugs? — Mrs. M. B.

The sympathetic nervous system is a part of the network of nerves that controls various parts of the human body, as distinct from the voluntary nervous system, by which we act consciously.

Among other things, the sympathetic system controls the tone of small blood vessels. Your reference to a leg problem would indicate that your son had a circulation problem in his legs — he had trouble walking because circulation was too restricted.

In some such cases, a sympathectomy is performed. That is, a nerve trunk is cut in a specific place to remove control over blood vessels in the legs. Without this nervous control constricting the blood vessels, the vessels relax and more blood flows through them.

Your other questions:

The situation has no relation to Addison's disease, which is a disorder of the adrenal glands.

As to diet and drugs he definitely should not smoke.

If he has a problem of high cholesterol, then a diet low in saturated (hard) fats would be in order. Medication to lower his cholesterol level might also be used.

There are drugs called vasodilators, used to relax the blood vessels to let more blood flow, but since these drugs work chiefly through nerve control, it is doubtful if they would be effective in your son's case, since the operation already has done what the drugs would be used for.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any danger in taking reducing pills (one a day) while pregnant? Will it affect the baby? How do the pills make you lose appetite? I am in my 20s. — M. M.

Such medications are of different types, but pretty generally they affect the appetite center and your metabolism and should not be used in pregnancy.

If it's necessary to lose weight, abide by your doctor's judgment. A low calorie diet may be prescribed. This might require six small meals a day to satisfy your appetite.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will four cups of coffee a day affect your genes or your heart? — Mrs. N. P. Y.

Caffeine (coffee contains about 100 milligrams per cup) has been tested and shown not to affect the genes in mammals (Man).

It can quicken the heart rate even in small amounts for some people.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dead men's lunches feed pair

KELLOGG (UPI) — Two miners who survived for a week in the fire-ravaged Sunshine Mine by eating the lunches of their dead coworkers were rescued Tuesday night from a tunnel nearly a mile underground.

Rescue workers also found 12 more bodies, some slumped over tables with their coffee cups half full, bringing the death toll to 47.

After the discovery of Tom Wilkinson and Ron Flory on the 4,800-foot level of the mine, the search for the 44 men still missing was temporarily suspended.

Wilkinson and Flory, both 29, had heavy beards. They were caked in dirt and dried sweat when they staggered into the arms of their ecstatic wives and relatives at the mine entrance. Both were in good condition.

"We got sandwiches and what have you from the lunch buckets of the guys that didn't make it," Flory said later at West Shoshone County Hospital when asked how they survived for seven days at the 4,800 foot level of the nation's richest silver mine.

"We had fresh air all the time," he added. They drank water from an air conditioning water pipe.

Rescue workers said the two men had cleaned out the lunch pails of seven other miners whose bodies were found in the same tunnel.

"We walked around and tried to get a message out that someone was alive but we couldn't," Flory said. "A half hour before they found us we gave up hope — it's a good thing they found us when they did."

They flashed on-and-off the headlights of a batter-operated mine car when they heard the rescuers.

Wilkinson said they "laid around a lot" to conserve energy and "talked and prayed" to pass the hours. Flory found a coil of blasting wire and "did a lot of square crawling."

The two men said they'd worked together for a year and a half and were able to "settle each other down" during periods of tension and depression as they waited a full week for rescue.

Asked if they would return to their mining jobs, the survivors gave different answers.

"No, not if I have anything to say about it," said Flory. "If I can find any other work, I'm not going down there again."

"I don't know, I might," said Wilkinson. Their wives, Frances Wilkinson and Myrna Flory, hugged each other and shouted, "I can't believe it — it can't be true," when they were informed their husbands were alive.

Flory said mine officials came to their stopes after the underground fire broke out May 2 and told them to get out.

"We went to the (hoist) station and got our respirators," he said. "And we just stood there waiting for a skip, and finally ended up moving back to get out of the smoke. It was the will of God we got out."

Other miners weren't as fortunate. A mine safety official, who asked not to be identified, said some of the dead men were found "slumped over rest tables — their coffee cups, half full." He said the carbon monoxide from the fire was so strong that "one whiff brought instant death."

Air good

LEVI BRAKE, Bureau of Mines official, said Tuesday he believed missing miners could have survived for a week in clear atmosphere he found at bottom of Sunshine Mine near Kellogg. He was among first to reach bottom of mine.

Air units brought in

It shows you faith, hope, and determination on the part of rescue workers paid off," he said.

"I feel 10 years younger today," Chase told the governor before taking him and his press secretary John Hough on a tour of some of the mine properties to show him the rescue operations.

Chase said the rescue of the two survivors "has released a lot of tension around this valley."

Andrus joins vigil around tent stove

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus joined a tent stove vigil Tuesday night, offering his prayers and those of other Idahoans to the families of 44 men still missing in the fire ravaged Sunshine Silver Mine.

Andrus, who made a special trip by Air National Guard plane, to visit the mine after learning two men had survived for a week nearly a mile below ground, said his press secretary informed him of the survivors while he attended the Junior Achievement Banquet in Boise.

He said there was "mixed joy and sadness" displayed by the 600-700 persons attending the banquet when he told them two survivors had been found.

People at that banquet hall went totally silent for a few seconds and then, like here, there were cheers — a mixture of tears and laughter," the Governor said.

He said there were strong emotions displayed that some persons still lived through the worst western metal mining disaster, and yet sadness that some men already have lost their lives.

"We can hope and pray other men will be in as good condition as those who came out today," he said.

About a half dozen persons sat around the midnight fire under a tent on the chilled and damp mine yard outside the Jewell Shaft.

The governor said he was uncertain how long he would stay in Kellogg, but that he felt he had to fly north for a first hand view of the scene after learning of the survivors.

Originally Andrus planned to fly directly to Kellogg, but a heavy overcast forced him to land at Coeur d'Alene and travel to the mine by State Police car.

The prayers of a lot of people at least partially have been answered," Andrus told Sunshine vice-president and general manager Marvin C. Chase.

Chase said the rescue of the two survivors "has released a lot of tension around this valley."

Hearing planned on mine disaster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said Tuesday that a congressional hearing would begin Monday on the Sunshine Mine disaster.

Hearings will be conducted May 15-16 before the House select subcommittee on Labor. Rep. Dominick Daniels, D-N.J., will chair the investigation.

Hansen said the Interior Department, mine company and union representatives would be asked to testify at the hearings along with mine workers who survived the accident.

"The purpose of the hearings," Hansen said, "will be to determine the cause of the accident and any measures that may be necessary to prevent similar mine disasters in the future."

He added the subcommittee plans on-site inspection and investigation of the northern Idaho mine at the earliest possible date following the Washington hearings.

Hansen, a member of the full House Education and Labor Committee, visited Sunshine last week during the investigation and urged a thorough investigation at that time.

Aid fund organized

KELLOGG, (UPI) — An emergency relief fund was set up Tuesday to help the survivors of miners killed in the Sunshine Mine fire.

The fund will be administered through the Idaho First National Bank in Wallace by a special board of trustees.

Contributions may be made payable to Mine Disaster Fund, care of KWAT-Radio, Post Office Box U, Osburn, Idaho 83849.

Mine firm stock hit hard again

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sunshine Mining Co. stock took another beating on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday.

Since the disastrous fire a week ago that killed at least 47 and left 44 persons missing in the more than one-mile deep northern Idaho mine, the firm's stock has dropped $1.75 a share.

When the fire was reported shortly after the exchange closed May 2, Sunshine stock was selling at $9.75 a share.

Tuesday, the issue was down to $8 a share with 18,900 shares traded.

In the past week, 140,400 shares of Sunshine Stock has been traded on the local exchange

ISU prayer meets set

POCATELLO (UPI) — Public silent prayer meetings have been planned by students at Idaho State University in response to the World Situation.

The session will be through Thursday at the university quadrangle and the students invited the public to participate.

Rev. Willis Ludlow, campus minister, was scheduled to offer the prayer the first evening and guest ministers were to be invited for the other two sessions.

Rock slide cleared up

LEWISTON (UPI) — City work crews Tuesday were cleaning up the remains of a rock slide which stalled traffic on a busy city street for more than an hour and a half Monday night.

Officials said a combination of rainsoaked ground and an elderly retaining wall caused about 10 tons of rock and debris to crash down on fifth street Monday night when the retaining wall collapsed.

Crews took over an hour and a half to clear a passage through the slide.

Angered protesters clash with police

By United Press International
In the most turbulent outburst in two years, antiwar demonstrators angered by the U.S. mining of North Vietnam ports clashed with riot-gear police Tuesday. Two University of New Mexico students were wounded by shotgun blasts. Hundreds of persons across the country were arrested.

Protesters rallied, marched, staged sit-ins and sit-downs, blocked highways, besieged government buildings and battled police.

The outburst was comparable to the May, 1970, demonstrations when the U.S. incursion into Cambodia triggered protests. In one of the protests then four Kent State University students were killed.

At Albuquerque, N.M., where the two students were shot Tuesday, police turned tear gas on angry demonstrators. Tear gas also was used to quell disturbances at Boulder, Colo., Gainesville, Fla., and Madison, Wis.

Police at Denver, Colo., used police dogs to help break up a disturbance.

Mrs. Carolyn Babb Coburn, a student reporter at the University of New Mexico, was seriously wounded by a shotgun blast in the stomach and chest. She underwent surgery and was in serious condition. Another student, Paul Smith, was treated for buckshot wounds in the back and released.

An Albuquerque police spokesman said the shooting incident was being investigated. Police were armed with pellet loads, he said, but so far as he knew shotguns were used only to launch tear gas grenades. Some witnesses, however, said they saw a policeman shoot a shotgun into a crowd.

At least a dozen persons were injured and more than 200 arrested during demonstrations at the University of Florida. Tear gas and fire hoses were used by police to break up the protests and the National Guard was alerted.

Seventeen persons were arrested at Minneapolis, Minn., including Mary Fraser, 19, the daughter of Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn. Several demonstrators and a policeman were injured during the confrontations.

Helmets police at Boulder used tear gas and clubs in a clash with 1,000 antiwar protesters in efforts to clear intersections and a highway bridge blocked by burning logs and automobiles.

At Champaign, Ill., 2,000 protesters ramped in the streets, smashing windows and looting stores.

Campus speaker

DR. BENJAMIN SPOCK spoke to a rally of about 400 students at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Tuesday. Spock again condemned the war in Vietnam and expressed fear over the outcome of the mining of North Vietnamese harbors announced Monday by President Nixon. (UPI)

Impeach Nixon, aide says

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said Tuesday the only way to check President Nixon's Vietnam policy is to impeach Nixon.

The former Minnesota senator, who is running for the Democratic presidential nomination, said passing congressional resolutions has no effect and cutting off appropriations for the war would take too long.

The situation has reached the point where the only formal and constitutional way open is an impeachment proceeding, McCarthy said in a speech.

"He told newsmen later that if I were in the House of Representatives, I would initiate impeachment proceedings against the President. If he was given any mandate, it was to end the war and he's had three and a half years to do it."

Columnist shot

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—A columnist for the University of New Mexico campus newspaper was in serious condition today from a shotgun wound suffered Tuesday in a confrontation between antiwar protesters and police.

A police spokesman said officers had shotgun ammunition on hand, but as far as he knew they used only tear gas shells in their guns to repel the protesters. Some witnesses, however, said they saw a policeman fire into the crowd.

Seven other persons were injured in the clash, including one who suffered superficial shotgun wounds.

Carolyn Babb Coburn, 22, the columnist, was shot in the chest and stomach and underwent surgery to remove shotgun pellets at Presbyterian Hospital. Doctors said she was in serious condition.

Police had moved in on about 350 of the demonstrators because they refused to leave a street near the campus where they were blocking traffic to protest President Nixon's blockade of North Vietnam. Tear gas was fired with shotguns.

Police chief Donald Byrd said he did not know who fired the shotgun blasts that struck Mrs. Coburn and another student.

On this day in history:

In 1865 Confederate President Jefferson Davis was captured as he fled Irwinville, Ga. He spent the next two years in prison.

In 1940 Nazi Germany invaded the Lowlands—Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—with 89 army divisions.

In 1963 Pope John XXIII received the Balzan Peace Prize, the first Pontiff to be so honored.

A thought for today: American author H.L. Mencken said, "It is the dull man who is always sure; and the sure man who is always dull."

Secret records read

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, citing secret government documents, said Tuesday the "entire intelligence gathering system of the United States" advised President Nixon in 1969 not to blockade North Vietnam.

Gravel read to the Senate Tuesday portions of a national security memorandum that was ordered prepared by President Nixon the day after he took office. Compiled under the direction of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, the memorandum incorporated the views on Vietnam of civilian and military government agencies.

Portions of the study were leaked to news agencies last month.

Gravel contended the administration was "playing chicken with the greatest superpowers in the world." He read portions of the memorandum in which arguments against trying to cut off supplies entering North Vietnam by sea or land were presented by the Central Intelligence Agency, the State Department and the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

The CIA concluded total interdiction of seaborne imports would be "difficult."

"Shallow-draft lighters could be used to unload cargo from ocean-going ships anchored in waters outside the mined major harbor areas," CIA analysts wrote. "Large numbers of small coastal ships and junks could move cargoes from ships diverted to southern Chinese ports of Fort Bayard, Canton or Phehai and could unload imports over the beaches or move into North Vietnam's network of inland waterways."

Last week Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the Republican whip in the Senate, blocked an attempt by Gravel to have the full document printed in the Congressional Record.

Allies favor Viet blockade

By United Press International
Newspapers in countries allied to the United States were generally favorable today in their reaction to President Nixon's military blockade of North Vietnam. A few, however, said the blockade would prove useless in preventing a Communist takeover in Vietnam.

The right-wing Hong Kong paper Sing Tao Jih Pao said, "The American decision to blockade Haiphong is the best choice. But it also takes the risk of escalating the Indochina war and the inevitable confrontation of the United States and Soviet Union and China."

The South China Morning Post of Hong Kong said the blockade would not improve the long-range prospects for the government of South Vietnam. "Mr. Nixon cannot be in any doubt that whatever the result, neither bombs, nor missiles nor mines can influence Hanoi in the long term and that once the U.S. leaves Vietnam for good—as it must—Saigon is unlikely to survive as an independent entity for very long," the Morning Post said.

The London Daily Telegraph called the Nixon blockade "the proper answer to Russia's challenge in Vietnam" and said the action might force the Soviets to reassess their foreign policy priorities.

"Are the Russians really more interested in Vietnam, and their hopes of humiliating America there, than in the missile agreement now ready for signature and the European security conference from which they count on gaining so much—to say nothing of Berlin, Ostpolitik and the Middle East?" the Telegraph said.

But the London Daily Mirror called the American blockade "the final act in the great American tragedy."

"He (Nixon) prefers this calculated defiance to immediate surrender," the Mirror said. "But when defeat is certain, is the white flag necessarily a dishonorable emblem? It is certainly more honorable than inflicting more torment to no purpose on Asian peasants who never knew anyway what the war was all about."

Mail running 5 to 1 against liberal abortion

Wednesday, May 10, 1972 - Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mail coming into the Commission on Population Growth and the American Future is running five to one against a pro-abortion policy recommended by the panel but assailed by President Nixon.

Some of the opposition appeared to be organized. For example, at least eight politely worded, hand-written letters from men, women and children in tiny Amelia, Ohio, condemned the recommendation for liberalized abortion laws that essentially would allow abortion on demand, similar to state laws in New York, Hawaii and Washington.

"God gives life and He should be the one to take it away," wrote one Amelia woman. "Thank you for reading my letter."

Some writers, whose letters ended up in a "No Answer Needed" file kept by the commission—which includes letters already answered by the White House—were less charitable.

"Abortion is of the devil and people who want this kind of damnable thing legalized are of the devil," wrote a Portland, Ore., man.

Some opposition was stated on-form letters which termed abortion "murder" and highly unacceptable. A few writers enclosed antiabortion form letters they said were distributed in church.

But a Goleta, Calif., man calling himself a Catholic, said he supported population control on a voluntary basis and disagreed with a request in his church bulletin that parishioners write letters "to protest the conduct of the commission."

A Vancouver, Wash., housewife rejected the panel's abortion/contraception recommendations with the view that

"licentiousness has gotten other societies nowhere" and a Seattle woman said a pro-abortion policy would be "another crippling blow by cutting down our population" in the race to keep ahead of the Soviet Union.

Nixon Friday attacked the panel's recommendations for liberalized abortion laws and distribution of contraceptive devices and services to minors. "Such measures would do nothing to preserve and strengthen close family relationships," he said in a statement.

An unofficial commission tally showed about 500 telegrams, letters and postcards in language from distress to outrage against the abortion proposal; another 100 opposed to other recommendations or to the report in general, and 100 in favor of the report.

Brandt squeaks first round victory on pact

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Willy Brandt today squeaked out a first-round victory in his battle for ratification of nonaggression pacts with Russia and Poland but the fate of the treaties was still uncertain.

Opposition Christian Democrats in a 259-259 tie vote in Parliament lost their bid to postpone debate on the ratification. The tie vote with no abstentions meant the opposition motion failed.

But political sources said ratification of the treaties could fail without opposition backing. Rainer Barzel, opposition leader, told reporters before the parliamentary session his party would vote against the treaties if Brandt's Social Democrats insisted on debate and decision today.

Barzel's party claims it needs more time to clarify Russia's interpretation of the pacts.

After a 12-day political crisis, Brandt and Barzel appeared Tuesday noon to have resolved their differences.

They did so in a three-hour meeting in which Soviet Ambassador Valentin Falin also participated. The session resulted in a 10-point resolution to be approved by parliament at the same time it ratified the treaties.

Barzel accepted the resolution and was advising his followers to vote for it and the treaties when he handed a news report that Falin had registered Soviet objections to some of the phrasing.

"I no longer can see clearly," Barzel told reporters. He said he needed at least a night to review the situation and proposed the further delay in treaty debate, already postponed twice in as many weeks.

End seen for Davis case

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The state could conclude its case against black militant Angela Davis next week providing the prosecutor and defense attorneys can agree on the language of "stipulations" covering about 20 out-of-state witnesses.

The attorneys met Tuesday afternoon and worked on the wording of the documents, which would summarize the testimony of the potential witnesses about Miss Davis' whereabouts in the months following the 1970 Marin County courthouse shootout. If they agree, the witnesses from New York, Miami, Chicago and Detroit won't be called to the stand.

Miss Davis, 28, an avowed Communist and former UCLA philosophy instructor, dropped out of sight after four men died in the courthouse run battle and was arrested two months later in New York.

The state contends she hastily fled the San Francisco Bay area and disappeared because she had helped plot and provided the guns for the escape and kidnaping attempt that led to the deaths of Judge Harold J. Haley, two convicts and teen-ager Jonathan Jackson.

Mrs. Marcia Brewer, a ticket agent for Pacific Southwest Airlines at San Francisco International Airport, said she sold the defendant the ticket within two minutes of "pullback time."

Incidents continue in Belfast fighting

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Snipers today wounded a British soldier and a member of the Ulster Defense Regiment (UDR) in separate incidents, the army said. Troops elsewhere claimed they hit three gunmen.

A bomb planted in a car damaged a dozen stores in Omagh, 60 miles west of Belfast, and slightly injured a soldier, an army spokesman said.

At Strabane, 14 miles southwest of Londonderry, and the nearby town of San Mills, troops used rubber bullets to disperse crowds of rock-throwing youths. One soldier was hit by a rock and required hospital treatment.

The scattered violence began shortly after midnight and continued into the early morning hours, the spokesman said.

A gunman fired 10 shots at a two-vehicle army patrol in Belfast's Springfield Road area near the "peace-line" separating Protestant and Roman Catholic areas.

Waiting for Mom

LITTLE 3-year-old John Petrulis of Omaha can think of things more fun than voting as his mother, Mary Joe Petrulis, casts her vote in the Nebraska all-star presidential primary early Tuesday. Sen. George McGovern nosed out Sen. Hubert Humphrey in a headon race for the Democratic presidential nomination. (UPI)

Whitewash charged by Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When the Senate votes on confirmation of Richard G. Kleindienst as attorney general it will decide whether it will "be a party to a whitewash," three Democratic senators have charged.

A minority report on Senate Judiciary Committee hearings into Kleindienst's nomination by President Nixon was issued Tuesday by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif.

They said "evidence to date has not dispelled" the appearance in the public mind of a connection between Justice Department settlement of anti-trust suits against International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and ITT's offer to help underwrite the 1972 Republican National Convention.

"The Senate must decide whether or not it is going to be a party to a whitewash," the three senators wrote in a 19-page review of committee testimony. "There is so much that is wrong in the evidence received so far. There is much evidence not received. There is no justification for the Senate's failing to receive it."

HOLLAND, Mich. (UPI) — If you see a fire breaking out in this West Michigan community, use the phone because the 56 fire alarm boxes have been sold at $25 each—20 of them to fire departments in other cities.

The City Council agreed to get rid of the boxes because of the growing number of phones in private homes.

Gooding eyes rezoning

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING—Trustees of the Gooding School District said today they are considering rezoning the district.

A plan presented in the board meeting Monday night would equalize the population and representation from each of five zones.

Under the new schedule the five zones would be realigned to give each between 19 and 21 percent of the population.

Zone 1 would include residents living outside the Gooding City limit, north of the old Shoshone highway on the east, and north sides of the railroad on the west. Zone 2 would be those living outside Gooding City limits, south of the old Shoshone highway on the east, and south sides of the railroad on the west, and those residing in the city south of 13th Street.

Zone 3 would be those living in the city north of Fifth Street. Zone 4 would be in the city south of Fifth and north of Ninth, excluding the new addition south of Wood River and east of Oregon Street. Zone 5 would include those in the city between Ninth and 13th streets and all of those in the new addition south of Wood River and east of Oregon Street.

A special meeting will be called later this month to further consider the proposal.

Trustees hired three new teachers. Robert Punched will teach English and be assistant football and basketball coach. He is a graduate of the University of Montana.

David Hocklander was hired for Spanish and assistant football coaching. He is a University of Idaho graduate. Herald Healy, Minot State College, N. D., will teach senior English.

Three other new teachers were hired last week. They are Terry Anderson, University of Idaho graduate, to teach industrial arts; Paula Remaley, College of Idaho graduate, physical education; and Charles Berry, University of Idaho, earth science and chemistry.

Ed Peterson, CTA Planning Architects, Twin Falls, met with the board to discuss problems with the new high school building. Final payment will be made when satisfactory adjustments have been made in the clock and bell system, the dishwashers and bleachers.

A call for bids will be issued in the June board meeting for the sale of the old Gooding High School. The fixtures except the furnace and water tank will be included. Ground must be filled, compacted and leveled when the building is demolished or removed. Desks, seats and other items will be sold under sealed bids or at auction, board members said.

A bid for $4,196 from Carlon Printers, Caldwell, was accepted for lighting of the stage in the new multi-purpose room.

Commencement and baccalaureate will be combined May 21 in the Gooding High School gymnasium.

Masonic Lodge representative Bill Dunham met with the board to discuss the lodge's plans for a dedication stone for the new high school. It will be located near the flag pole at the school entrance.

Summer school programs were discussed by Cora Ziegler, home economics instructor; Carrel Schnitker, agriculture teacher; and Eugene Gibbons, elementary principal.

The elementary program under Title I funding will cover language arts, math, reading and physical education June 5 through July 28. Two teachers and two teacher's aides will also provide pre-school classes June 5 through June 10.

Children who do not have an opportunity to attend private kindergartens will have priority for the pre-school readiness classes, he said.

Blockade pinpointed

Effective blockade could cut into Hanoi's effort

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fully 75 per cent of North Vietnam's imports arrive by sea, the Pentagon estimates, and an effective blockade could cut deeply into Hanoi's war effort. Of four notable ports in the North, Haiphong—10 miles up the Cua Nam River in an area that resembles the Nile Delta—is by far the most important. Its mechanized loading docks handle 95 per cent of all the North's imports.

Valley school has symposium on drugs

VALLEY SCHOOL—A group of Eden and Hazelton citizens participated last weekend in a two-day drug symposium at Valley High School. Rev. Michael J. Fitzgibbons told the group, "We will not solve our drug problems in this country until we begin to deal with the issues kids are concerned about today." Participating in the drug symposium were local drug education teams—primarily teachers, school administrators and students as well as police officers, community health workers and public health nurses. The main purpose of the two-day session was to try and determine what type of program to help with drug abuse could be set up in the Eden-Hazelton area. Rev. Fitzgibbons said that he was pleased with the workshop, noting that adults and students were able to talk freely and openly to each other on the subject of not only drugs but other related problems which develop between the young people and adults today. Fitzgibbons said that although no concrete program was established it was a step in the right direction and he is hopeful that a program which will meet with the community's approval will soon be established. During the last school year, Valley High School formed a drug team which participated in the two-day program. The team has been instrumental in informing students of the effects of drugs and takes a one-hour program every two weeks to the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Part of the workshop's program dealt with the causes of drug use and alternatives to drugs as a way of dealing with the problem. Rev. Fitzgibbons said. A similar program will be held in Minico High School, Rupert, May 19 and 20.

destined to feed Communist tanks, some of which require 18 gallons of gas per mile. The next most important impact would be on ammunition supplies, particularly heavy artillery shells and surface-to-air missiles (SAMs)—antiaircraft devices supplied almost exclusively by the Soviet Union.

There are two other principal ports northeast of Haiphong, Hon Gai and Cam Pha, which ship anthracite coal from neighboring mines both to foreign countries and back to Haiphong for domestic distribution. The only other port of any significance is Ben Tre, which serves the southern part of North Vietnam with a capacity for vessels of up to 400 tons.

Music Week recognized

BURLEY—Musical entertainment was the program for the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday recognizing National Music Week. Mrs. Vera Norton, Burley Music Club, Music Week chairman, was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Edith Dunn and Mrs. Norma Jacobs sang accompanied by Mrs. Eldon Wood. Brenda Brill and Connie Fairbrother played a flute duet and Mary Ochoaiz played a piano solo. All three are students at Burley High School. Mrs. Norton announced the Burley High School Music Department is presenting a free concert at 8 p.m. Thursday at the high school.

The Burley Music Club is sponsoring a salad bar luncheon from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday in the conference room of the Idaho Bank and Trust, and the public is invited, announced Mrs. Norton. Proceeds go for music scholarships, Mrs. Norton added.

Jerome doctors see film

JEROME—Robert S. Schroeder, professional sales representative for Pfizer Laboratories, spoke to a group of Jerome County doctors Monday night at Wood Cafe. Schroeder presented a film on diabetic problems to the doctors and also discussed many problems and new treatments which have been developed to solve them.

Ship unloaded

THE SOVIET CARGO ship "Pavlovsk" is unloaded in the key North Vietnam port of Haiphong in this September, 1968, photo. In reaction to President Nixon's decision to mine and blockade North Vietnamese ports, Moscow called it "undisguised aggressive action which means the deepening of American interference in Vietnam," the Tass News agency said.

Action returns U.S. to large scale offensive

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The mining of North Vietnam's ports has returned the United States to large-scale offensive mine warfare for the first time since July, 1945.

Pentagon officials refused to discuss the techniques being used to plant explosives in North Vietnam's harbors and block all shipping to that country, but U.S. mine warfare has changed greatly since World War II.

Most U.S. mines today, including those now in the entrance to Haiphong harbor and other North Vietnamese ports, are dropped from aircraft rather than sewn from ships. And no longer does a hostile ship have to hit a mine to make it explode.

Because President Nixon gave ships in Haiphong and other ports a three-day grace period to get out safely, the mines are equipped with delayed action fuses that would not make them lethal until after dark Thursday. Presumably they also were equipped with remote-control devices that could be used to render them safe again when Nixon decides to call off the blockade.

In times past, naval mines had to be set off by impact. But today the magnetic effect of a passing vessel, sound waves set off by pounding engines and spinning propellers, or electronic impulses can all be used to touch off the explosion.

Some officials suggested that a combination of these types of mines might be used against North Vietnam.

Just how North Vietnam will respond to the presence of the mines remains to be seen. The Soviet Union possesses the most modern mines sweeping equipment available, some officials said, but North Vietnam lacks such equipment and Nixon's blockade likely will keep any Soviet mine sweepers from coming to Hanoi's aid.

But Navy sources at Pearl Harbor said there was nothing to prevent the North Vietnamese from sweeping the Haiphong channels within minutes after the airborne mines were dropped, unless American air and sea power moves in to protect the newly-laid fields.

"They are well equipped with minesweepers and are up on the latest techniques for getting rid of mines," the source said.

"If the mines at the harbors are not well guarded, they can get rid of them almost as fast as we can drop them into the water."

U.S. minesweeping today is carried out by a low-flying helicopter towing a steel sled through the water. If the sled triggers a mine, the helicopter is far enough ahead of the blast to avoid harm.

The last time the United States conducted large-scale offensive mining was during World War II in the Western Pacific and around Japan. Those operations began in 1942 and continued through July of 1945.

Reds aim for quick victory?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The Communists must try now even harder for a quick military victory in South Vietnam. Either that or the early fall of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's government.

"The killing must stop," President Nixon declared in announcing his determination to cut off Hanoi's war supplies as one of three alternatives open to him. The other two, he said, were the "easy choice" of total withdrawal, and the preferred method of negotiation, "arrogantly rejected" by the Communists.

But the President's action aimed at cutting off the flow of war supplies into North Vietnam from other Communist nations can have no effect on supplies already on the battlefield or on the way.

And as refugees clog South Vietnam's highways and as South Vietnamese troops display battlefield weaknesses, the strength of the Saigon government also comes into question. This also must remain high in the consideration of the President and his advisers.

Thieu won unopposed election last year after eliminating from the ballot his two chief rivals, former Vice President Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky and Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Thieu has held office since 1967, systematically solidifying his position by appointment of his own men to all key posts both political and military, including the all-powerful provincial chiefs who rule as virtual warlords.

But in a nation not noted for loyalty either to a government or an ideology, a succession of serious military setbacks could oust as chief of state in 1964. He steadfastly has rejected suggestions for a coalition government on terms that might be acceptable to Hanoi.

In Thieu's favor is the fact that, after a succession of short-lived governments after President Diem's fall in 1963, he alone has been able to give the Saigon government an appearance of stability.

But opposition to him is widespread, among the Buddhist majority, among deposed army generals, militant students and even in the Roman Catholic church, of which Thieu is a converted member. It is a divided opposition, as of now, without the spark that could weld it into a united whole.

Analysis

touch off a scramble even among Thieu appointees to save themselves.

As for the refugees, already estimated at three out of every 100 among South Vietnam's population, they undoubtedly would favor anyone who could return them to their homes.

Gen Duong Van Minh, the man credited with leading the coup which toppled President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963 and the most respected among Thieu's rivals, has been waiting in the wings to take over South Vietnam's rule since his own

Hawaiian dances presented

HANSEN — Mrs. Sammy Hency, Kimberly, a native Hawaiian, presented two dances at the Monday meeting of the Idaho Chapter 84 TOPS Club.

Mrs. Hency had members of the club try one of the dances, including the hand movements.

Mrs. Dorris Morris was program leader and introduced Mrs. Hency.

Opening exercises were given by KOPS members, telling how they became KOPS. They are Mrs. Lois Vinyard, Mrs. Sharon Crossman, Mrs. Afton Dopson and Mrs. Marybell Howard.

A sound-off contest where members are given safety pins for each pound lost will begin next week. If a member gains a pound the pin must be given back. When 10 pins are accumulated a bracelet charm will be given.

Mrs. LaRae Wright was best loser.

It was decided that each gainer will take a quilt block home to embroider and return it to the next meeting. When a quilt is completed it will be awarded in a manner yet to be determined.

A new contest where members take an imaginary trip on a ship with everyone staying on the top deck was decided upon. Those gaining will be thrown in the water and must lose once to get on an island and once more to regain the lower levels of the ship.

Prizes will be awarded those who stay on the upper deck, through consistent losing or holding weight constant. The losers of the contest will host a salad luncheon for winners of the contest.

Saturday recital set in TF

In the early days of contract, the most successful players didn't bother with grand slams. Bidding was in its early development and they were satisfied to collect the small-slam bonus.

Today, they have learned to bid grand slams and, of course, Blackwood is one of their grand slam tools.

Sometimes the Blackwood bidder can go right to seven after finding out that his side holds all four aces. On other occasions, he rebids to five no-trump. This bid asks partner to tell him how many kings he holds.

Strangely enough, this is not the chief value of the Blackwood five no-trump. Its chief value is that it tells partner that the side does hold all four aces. On many

Art projects shown to TF Home Council

TWIN FALLS — Cultural arts chairman Mrs. Maurice Allen presented the Monday night program for the Twin Falls Extension Homemakers Council.

She presented two 4-H club members who have completed art projects. Maurine Allen demonstrated a color mixing method. She is a member of the Curry 4-H Club. Darrell Hunt, a member of this and that 4-H club, presented a demonstration on drawing and shadowing. Richard Fuehrer, 4-H Club agent for the county presented a film on creative patterns.

Mrs. Fred Montgomery, council president, conducted the meeting with 25 members and 15 guests, mostly 4-H club members, attending.

Mrs. J. H. Sharp, club publicity chairman, presented newspaper news reporting forms and discussed the two-day deadline for all news events in the local paper.

Extension clubs were asked to send in histories of each club to Pat Maughan, county extension agent, by May 26.

Mrs. Montgomery reported on the March meeting held in Burley and said a leadership training session has been set for May 23 on window treatment. The meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the old hospital building.

Pressure cookers will be tested May 25 at 9 a.m. in the Idaho Power Auditorium. Mrs. Montgomery said the program tests the cookers for safety and proper functions for club members.

Plans were also announced for chartering a bus to the state convention Oct. 18 and 19 in McCall.

Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: We, as a group, would appreciate your viewpoint on the following:

I belong to the establishment group, agewise. (I am 65.) A judge in Los Angeles recently addressed our group and stated that if we would communicate with the longhaired young people, and compliment them when they had it coming, it would help to bridge the generation gap.

Last week I did just that. We were dining out, and at the table next to ours sat three young men with long hair. They were well scrubbed, quiet and courteous, yet their attire was typically mod.

On leaving I stopped at their table and complimented them on their neat, scrubbed appearance and said I hoped that they were furthering their education to become useful citizens in the world. They smiled and thanked me and I left.

Question: Was I wrong? On relating the incident to other young people, I was criticized for my actions.

I would appreciate your opinion. LEISURE WORLDER

DEAR WORLDER: You can bridge the gap better with unprejudiced, common sense evaluation of other people than by impulsive, contrived compliments. I'm sure you meant well, but the kids may have thought you were bending too far backwards.

DEAR ABBY: Is my husband crazy, or am I? He has worn glasses for years, and says when he takes his glasses off, he can't HEAR? Do you think he should have his head examined? ABE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not necessarily. But it wouldn't hurt to have his EARS examined.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to "Stay-At-Home Wife" whose husband had been seeing a widow he had known 40 years before: At that time the woman turned him down because he was going to have his foot amputated and she "couldn't bear the thought of marrying a man who couldn't dance."

In 1948 I married a man who had lost a leg in World War II. Altho he is a fine dancer (Widow has a lot to learn about amputees), there were days when he couldn't dance. Since one dream of my life was a good husband, not merely a dancing partner, I didn't think this disqualified him. Six years later an accident ended MY dancing days, and left me permanently operating from a wheelchair. Since one dream of my husband's life had been a good wife, not merely a dancing partner, we coped with this, too, tho it was "surely an unpredictable 'worse' of the 'better or worse' of our wedding vows."

With dancing partners separating all around us, we are still happily together. He who refuses understanding burns the bridge over which he may come day need to pass.

I would like to ask Widow where she thinks I would be today if, 17 years ago my husband "couldn't bear the thought of being married to a woman who couldn't dance."

Conference attraction

THIS COUPLE is part of the Temple Buell College, Denver, Colo., Fun and Games Theatre Co., who will be presenting a medley of three or four fairy tales of famous stories during the May 12 and 13 Regional Children's Theatre Conference. The group performs in the round.

Performance set for May Children's Theatre meet

TWIN FALLS — The Temple Buell College, Denver, Colo., Fun and Games Theatre Co., will perform for those attending the May 12-13 Regional Children's Theatre Conference.

The versatile and creative Children's Theatre group consisting of college people, performs in the round. They do a medley of three or four fairy tales or famous stories, per performance. Each performer assumes many roles during each performance, wearing a basic costume and adding only a tail or hat or perhaps an apron or sash to suggest the characters they are portraying. Their stage is a center rug and their costumes and props come from a trunk in the center.

Registration for those interested in attending the conference will be conducted from 2 to 2:30 p.m. Friday at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

The opening session of the conference will begin at 3:30 p.m. when Olin Corey, National Children's Theatre president, will give a lecture demonstration on directing for youth.

Saturday morning registration will be from 8 to 9 a.m. at Harrison School. The Fun and Games Theatre Co. will perform at 9 a.m.

At 10:30 a.m. Saturday, "Music by the Gtrocks", North Colorado State University, Greeley, Colo., under the direction of Dr. Christine Sturgess, will perform a rock musical. The performance will be open to the public.

Mrs. Irene Corey will give a lecture demonstration, "Make-up: Realism to Stylization," at 2:30 p.m. This is the visual production lecture she will be giving at the International Theatre Conference in New York to delegates from 30 foreign countries.

Displays are being set up by Boise State College, University of Wyoming, Lewis Clark Normal College, Cultural Arts and Understandings Program, Denver, and the National CTA New Scripts Service.

Those wanting further information or to pre-register may call Mrs. Eugene Sturgill, Regional Children's Theatre governor, 733-8999.

Thailand orchid growers visit friends in Burley

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Mr. and Mrs. Rapee Sagarik, Bangkok, Thailand, have been in Burley on a short visit with Idaho friends.

Sagarik is president of the Thailand Orchid Society and has been raising orchids for 20 years. He founded the society in 1957 at which time there were few orchid breeders but the society now lists 1,500 members, he stated.

"Our orchids are grown outdoors for our climate is suitable for their growth," Sagarik said. He added there are now over 1,000 species of orchids which have been developed in Thailand.

In 1965 the Thailand Orchid Society became affiliated with the American Orchid Society, Inc., and this has promoted a good relationship between the two countries, according to Sagarik.

Mr. and Mrs. Sagarik attended the seventh orchid conference in Columbia in April. There were 43 countries represented. The world conference will be held in Germany in 1974 and in Thailand in 1976.

The couple spent several days in Florida and arrived in Salt Lake City in May to be met by their son, Raviphan (Bok) Sagarik, a student at Utah State University. The son has been in the United States for almost seven years, first coming here as an American Field Service Exchange student.

He finished high school at Nampa and enrolled in Utah State University where he is majoring in aeronautical engineering. His American parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kotter, and children, Nampa, met the Sagariks in Burley for a visit.

The Sagariks also have a son attending the University of Hawaii whom they will visit on their way home, and a son and a daughter still at home.

Sagarik made his first trip to the United States in 1954 to study rice and rice products in the South. In 1966 he came to the states to attend the first world orchid conference in California and on that trip came to Idaho. In 1968 he returned to the United States on a Rockefeller Foundation study grant and again came to Idaho to visit his son. This is Mrs. Sagarik's second trip to this country.

Sagarik is a professor of the Department of Plant Science (Horticulture), vice rector of Kasetsart University, Bangkok, Thailand, and is an honorary vice-president of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

In Thailand we have eight colleges with main courses of study which are agriculture, fishery, forestry, veterinary science, economics, arts and sciences, engineering, and graduate school. Sagarik stated, "Our main course is agriculture and we have some 7,000 students enrolled in this course," he added.

He noted that the university has a very good relationship with American universities in all fields of study.

Speaker set

HANSEN — Gov. Cecil B. Andrus will be commencement speaker for the graduating class of Hansen High School May 16 at 8 p.m.

Commencement exercises will be in the high school gymnasium. Baccalaureate services will be Sunday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium with Mr. E. J. Morgan, Twin Falls, as speaker.

Visit in Burley

BANGKOK, Thailand, couple, Mr. and Mrs. Rapee Sagarik, visited friends in Burley recently. Sagarik made his first trip to the United States in 1954 to study rice and rice products of the south.

Burley miss sets June date

BURLEY — Mr. and Mrs. David E. Barry, Burley, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathryn, to Edwin Kip Goodwin.

Miss Barry was graduated from Burley High School and is enrolled at Idaho State University, Pocatello, majoring in dental hygiene.

Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Goodwin, Seattle, Wash., graduated from Nathan Hale High School in Seattle and has served three years with the Army, spending 23 months in Vietnam.

The couple plans a June 17 wedding in the Burley Presbyterian Church.

Paintings displayed in Jerome

JEROME — A display of Larry Milligan's paintings are being featured at the Jerome Civic Memorial Library for the next two weeks.

Milligan, a noted western artist, has eight paintings and three ink drawings on display at the library. The paintings, which are on consignment to several art galleries in Oregon, Montana and California, will be on display to the public until May 13.

This is the first time Milligan has had enough of his paintings together at one time for a showing in this area.

The paintings deal with the west and include pictures of "The White Man's Holy Road," showing the long wagon trains on the Oregon Trail; "Lewis and Clark at Packer Meadow" and "Three Island Crossing" at Glens Ferry.

Milligan's paintings indicate a great deal of research and detail.

Milligan said his paintings reflect the Old West of the mountain men, explorers and pioneers, "the good men and the bad who moved all across the face of a vast wilderness. For more than any other people, my canvas stories are for the original owners of this land, the Indian," Milligan said.

"I feel a kinship to these people that goes deeper than the little ties of Cherokee blood in my veins. They are a legion and they loved this land," Milligan said.

Milligan said he spends many long hours going over sheaves of manuscripts and historical records and his sketch pad, and journeys east and west to actual historical sites.

"After all this searching for fact and truth and composing, the picture must stand alone as a piece of art that is as accurate as possible," Milligan said.

A Lovelier You

A THICKENING WAISTLINE

By Mary Sue Miller

Your weight may be normal, and yet you can carry a roll of flesh around your waist. The cause then is not extra pounds but lack of exercise.

Of course measurements take on blimp proportions if you are both over-weight and under-exercised. In such a fix you have to combine exercise and diet. Otherwise a daily workout turns the trick. Either way, the following routine acts to trim and hold the line:

1. Stand tall and grasp waist at either side between thumbs and forefingers with palms resting behind back. Without moving fingers, draw in waist. Now estimate how much air space there is between curve of waist and that formed by fingers. Repeat 10 times, always trying to increase air space. (Idea here is to strengthen the muscles that let the flesh spill over.)

2. Lie back down on floor with feet together and arms stretched over head. At same time, raise right leg and left arm toward ceiling; keeping knee straight and bending waist, try to touch left hand to right instep. Alternating sides, perform 10 to 20 times. (Action trims flesh.)

Faithful work whittles up to 2 inches a month. Once the job is done, keep the waist in shape by using the same routine—halve the count. Why, you'll be able to wear bare midriff fashions. And even if you don't wish to, it's nice to know you could!

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, MIDRIFF SLIMMERS. It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Wendell artists display

WENDELL — The boys of Cub Scout Pack 75 are being featured as "Artists of the Month" at the Wendell branch of the Idaho First National Bank during the month of May. This "Budding Artist" exhibit presented by LDS Pack 75, Northside District, Snake River Council, shows the boys are striving to learn to express themselves, Mrs. Dale Tilley, den mother said.

These young scouts have used paints and crayons at home and school since they were small. Now through this activity they have learned to use different tools of art, how to mix colors and how to make designs.

She said not everyone has a great talent for art, but these Cub Scouts have enjoyed learning how real artists work and have gained an appreciation of art.

Visit day slated in Gooding

GOODING — A visiting day for all pre-schoolers and their parents will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Gooding Elementary School.

All children who will enter first grade at Gooding this fall are invited to attend, according to Mrs. Jim Hall, pre-school chairman.

There will be a panel discussion and question and answer program for the parents while the children visit first-grade classrooms.

Participants in the panel discussion will be Eugene Gibbons, principal; Mrs. Pearly Carrico, Judy Christopherson and Mrs. Jim Hall.

All parents are urged to familiarize themselves and their children with pre-school procedures. Refreshments will be served.

Mini-reviews

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Public Library officials have "released" mini-reviews for some of the new books recently received at the library.

"Rasputin, the Holy Devil" by Rene Fulop-Miller. An authenticated explanation of a man whose depraved saintliness made him powerful enough to make a world for awhile.

"Declaration of Conscience" by Margaret Chase Smith. Mrs. Smith is known as a woman of few words — when she chooses to speak, she has something to say.

"A Cluster of Separate Sparks" by Joan Aiken. Only after a series of harrowing brushes with death and a climactic confrontation in a cloud of butterflies does Georgia find the solution to the mysteries that have long puzzled her and the love of a devoted man.

"The Muscovite" by Alison MacLeod. Jerome Horsey came to Russia as a young man, apprenticed to the company. This is an exciting story of the past, illuminating our knowledge of the present.

Burley girls get awards

BURLEY — Camp Fire Girl leaders announced Monday that 45 girls will receive "The Keep America Beautiful" award for work on the Johnny Horizon Cleanup.

The girls braved the cold weather and assisted in the county-wide cleanup. They will receive the award for cleaning some 38 miles of road.

Leaders and sponsors of the groups include Mrs. Jerry Anderson, Mrs. Dee Keicher, Mrs. Gene Wright, Mrs. Mike Horgan, Mrs. Gerald Beason, Mrs. Ned Bunn, Mrs. Pete Gutierrez, Mrs. Gale Burton, Mrs. Bill Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Conrad and Mrs. Harold Armstrong.

Jerome Rebekahs host tea

Blaine tentative school budget up 12 per cent

HAILEY — A tentative budget of $991,426 has been set by the Blaine County School District for the 1972-73 school year.

The budget comprises about an 8 per cent increase over last year's budget of $919,938. A public hearing has been scheduled for May 30. According to Assist. Supt. Ray Jefferson, "additional funding will be required on the county level in view of the legislature's failure to adequately fund public education at the state level."

The instructional fund, representing about 74 per cent of the total budget, showed the greatest increase, $736,041 allocated this year compared to about $660,000 last year.

Jefferson said the boosts were caused by incremental raises for teachers, a planned staff addition of about five new teachers and increased expenditures for supplies and equipment.

Plant maintenance showed the greatest decrease, a cut of about one-half, from about $23,000 last year to $11,750 this year. Jefferson said the decrease was necessitated by the availability of funds.

In revenue, increased evaluation will bring in about $40,418 more in taxes. However, this increase will be partially offset by an about $35,000 decrease in state foundation program funds.

Jefferson said when a high evaluation exists locally, state funds are redistributed throughout the state to equalize education.

Murtaugh passes emergency levy

MURTAUGH — Voters in the Murtaugh School District passed a special emergency mill levy that will net the Schools an additional $18,000 for the 1972-73 school year.

District trustee chairman Jim Perkins said 87 people voted in favor of the levy while 34 opposed it. Perkins said the vote represents a record turnout and a 72 per cent affirmative vote.

The school board decided to ask for the levy after deciding additional funds would be needed to operate the school at the current level. The mill levy is in addition to the allowable 30-mill levy granted each district and was passed on an emergency measure.

"The board of trustees is very grateful to all patrons of the district for the support they have shown on this vital issue," said Perkins in speaking for the board.

Funds from the levy are to be used for maintenance and operation expenses of Murtaugh School.

Cassia teachers Trustees voting on move elected at Filer

BURLEY — Cassia County school teachers voted today on their next move in their controversy with the school administration as the first of two contract deadlines became effective.

Principals of all schools were to return all teachers contracts to the central office today, whether they had been signed or not. The teachers then have until 5 p.m. May 19 to sign their contracts in the central office.

Mrs. Jean Snow, president of the Cassia County Education Association, said today the teachers are being asked to decide whether the association should proceed with a group request that teachers be allowed to take their contracts home with them before signing. A court ordered writ of mandate is being considered by the association to back up their request.

The controversy centers around orders from the school administration that teachers must sign their 1972-73 contracts in the principals' offices. This order in turn stems from a threat by the association to have members turned signed contracts over to the association to be used as a lever in the deadlocked negotiations between teachers and administrators.

Mrs. Snow said about half of the teachers in the district have signed their contracts including a large number of non-tenured teachers not protected by the state's continuing contract law.

"We didn't want to risk any teacher's job by having the teacher refuse to sign a contract," Mrs. Snow said.

The teachers may consider a mass signing in the superintendent's office on May 19 as an alternative, she said.

FILER — The lack of candidates did not stop Hollister voters from casting their ballots in the Filer School Trustee elections Tuesday.

Hollister is zone 5 of School District 413, where David Chadwick ran unopposed for a three-year term.

Chadwick received 43 votes. In the other four zones of the district, candidates were also running unopposed.

In zone 1, Lawrence Knigge got eight votes for a two-year term. In zone 2, Everett Andrews was voted a single-year term with 13 votes. Former Filer Principal Arthur Chaburn received one write-in vote in zone 2.

John Lutz received 11 votes for a two-year term in zone 4 while Alvin Ochsner got the same count for a three-year post in zone 3.

Patrons cast their ballots at Filer High School and Hollister Elementary School.

McHan wins in Wendell voting

WENDELL — Vard McHan, dairy farmer, defeated two other contestants for the Wendell trustee post in Zone 3 Tuesday.

Patrons also renewed a maintenance and operation levy, 157 to 111. McHan received 33 votes, while Irvin Rast polled 24 and Tom Harley, the third declared candidate, received six. Ron Bartlett received three write-in votes for a total of 66 votes cast.

Regional airport to borrow funds

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

BURLEY — The money-short Interim Regional Airport Board voted Tuesday night to borrow until its first tax money is received this fall.

Both Cassia and Minidoka counties had refused a request that they advance 20 per cent of the first year's one-mill levy for expenses, board chairman George Forschler said.

The airport board ordered a one-mill levy as provided by state law in each of the five counties of the airport district. Minidoka and Cassia commissioners had said that since the levy was ordered only last fall, they will have no tax receipts until this fall, and they have insufficient reserves to turn over to the airport board as requested.

Forschler questioned the reasoning, saying counties must have a surplus to operate county departments between taxing periods. Several other counties, notably Jerome and Gooding, have been working with the airport board, Forschler said. The Jerome County commission had remitted $1,496 and Gooding County, $292 as their shares of the first year's levy.

The failure of Minidoka and Cassia, largest counties in the district, to remit their shares will force issuing the deficiency warrants, Forschler said.

Minidoka County's 20 per cent share would be about $2,200 and Cassia County's $2,300.

The warrants will be honored by a Jerome bank for interest charges estimated at $150 to $200 for the year, Forschler said.

Trustees also approved a "trustee fee" of $15 for each trustee, plus mileage at 10 cents per mile for those attending each meeting. The board will meet monthly, rotating the meetings throughout the region. The next meeting is scheduled June 1 in Sun Valley.

Frank Titus, Jerome, reported on progress of planning grant applications. The final application for matching funds from the Federal Aviation Administration was submitted May 5, and approval is expected by the end of the month, Titus said.

The federal government will provide two-thirds of the cost of the initial planning survey, now estimated at $32,700. A Boise engineering firm retained by the board in the January meeting will complete an in-depth site feasibility survey as the first step in planning for the regional airport.

Two Jerome men opposing aides

JEROME — Two Jerome men will be opposing incumbent council members Elwin Tinker and Walter Bentzinger in the special recall election here June 6.

Filing deadline Tuesday at 5 p.m. saw only Cecil Moore Jr. and former Jerome mayor John Hosman in the running although a number of other nominating petitions had been taken out.

The other petitions were not filed by deadline, city clerk Marilyn Bragg said. In a recall election the incumbents are automatically candidates for their own offices.

Bentzinger and Tinker were the objects of recall efforts by a group of Jerome citizens during the past few months. In April, District Judge Theron W. Ward ordered the city to hold the special recall election.

Barry lifts Nets into series draw

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Rick Barry's jump shot with 27 seconds to go and his free throw with three seconds left gave the New York Nets a 117-115 victory over the Indiana Pacers Tuesday night. The win evened their American Basketball Association title series at one game apiece.

The third game in the best-of-seven series will be played at Nassau, New York, Friday night.

New York, blasted by 23 points in the series opener at Bloomington, last Saturday, appeared headed for a seemingly easy victory in the final period when the Pacers tossed in 16 consecutive points and held the Nets scoreless for 4:23 to take the lead on Roger Brown's 3-point play with 1:40 left.

Barry, the league's second leading scorer, led all players with 29 points. George McGinnis and Brown topped Indiana with 22 points each and Freddie Lewis, who tossed in 33 in the opener, had 21.

The game, played before a sellout crowd of 10,000 in the State Fairgrounds Coliseum, was tied six times in the first half.

It was 27-all at the first stop and New York led at the half, 59-55. The New Yorkers opened up a 16-point lead, their biggest, at 93-77, late in the third period on the shooting of Roche and Melchionni, who canned 11 points in the stanza, but Indiana trimmed the margin to 93-83, going into the final quarter.

A's take two from Brewers 10-2, 3-0

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland Athletics scored all their runs in two innings Tuesday night en route to a 10-2 and 3-0 sweep of the Milwaukee Brewers and stretched their winning streak to five games.

Angel Mangual drove in three runs in the big first-game rally while Ken Holtzman went the distance on a 10-hitter for his fourth victory in five decisions. Leftfielder Joe Lahoud's three-base error opened the gate in the fifth of the nightcap which pinchhitter Bobby Brooks and Mike Epstein took care of with singles.

Quarry's latest win
LONDON (UPI)—Heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry won a close decision over fellow American Larry Middleton in a 10-round fight at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Tuesday night.

Referee Harry Gibbs scored it 49-14 to Quarry to 49 points for Middleton.

There were loud boos from the crowd and some fight experts thought Middleton just edged the verdict or should at least have earned a draw.

Up to the seventh round Quarry looked sluggish and the crowd was obviously disappointed that he did not show the form that he displayed when he destroyed British champion Jack Bodell in 64 seconds last November.

Middleton was unflappable and took all Quarry's best punches, even a hard right under the heart in round five. Middleton, with only 22 fights to his credit, managed to tie up Quarry and landed constantly with a left jab to his face.

Quarry said after the fight "I hurt my left hand in the fourth round and it went altogether in the seventh."

He said he rushed straight back to the dressing room and put his hand in ice, and 15 minutes after the fight he was still holding his hand in the ice.

"I won the fight on willpower," Quarry said. "I really needed this fight in preparation for the Las Vegas fight with Muhammad Ali June 27."

Quarry's brother, Jim said after the fight that the bout with Ali is not likely to come off.

"It looks as though the promoters can't come up with the right money," he said and added that he hopes to match his brother against former world-heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Nicklaus has money lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus continued to pace the money winning standings of the Professional Golf Association's Tournament Players Division, while Bruce Devlin, who won the Houston Open on Monday, made a giant jump of 20 places in the ratings but failed to crash the top 10.

Nicklaus, who overlooked the Houston Open, has accumulated $154,273 in prize money so far this season for a substantial lead of nearly $50,000 over second place George Archer.

Devlin won $25,000 at Houston by pushing his 1972 earnings to $44,721 and advance from 39th place in the rankings to 19th place.

POWDERPUFF CHAMPION of Nevada is Shirley Nelson, Twin Falls, who earned the honors in the Nevada state snowmobile championships at Angel Lake. She triumphed over nine other women from throughout the west in the 400 stock division.

USOC offers new amateurism code

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—A radically relaxed definition of amateurism which would permit an athlete to compete in the Olympic games and still get wealthy from endorsement and television money is being proposed for the first time.

"It's a suggestion, for a radical change by the International Olympic Committee (IOC)," said Marcus Plant, chairman of the United States Olympic Committee's (USOC) Committee on Eligibility. "It's a recognition of reality."

The Committee's restructuring of the concept of amateurism was presented to the USOC at its April 17 meeting in Bartlesville, Okla. Plant, who made them public Tuesday, hopes they will be ready to be put on the agenda for the IOC's 1973 meeting in Sophia, Bulgaria.

The long-simmering conflict between different countries over what makes an athlete an amateur came to a boil over just prior to the past Winter Olympics, when Austrian skier Karl Schranz was barred from competing by IOC President Avery Brundage, who declared him to be a professional.

"The strict concept of amateurism in the 20th Century has eroded," said Plant, who served as president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in 1967-68. "I think, in principle, if the proposed definition has the backing of the (USOC) Board of Directors."

Under the hoped-for, less restrictive concept of what constitutes amateurism, which has not been formally adopted by the USOC, an athlete could: Remain an amateur in one sport despite being a professional or non-amateur in another.

Lost his amateur status and regain it under certain conditions.

Coach or teach a sport in which he competes but still retain amateur status if that position isn't his primary vocation.

Accept remuneration such as television fees and endorsement monies provided they don't involve any performance or such remuneration is not contingent upon participation or quality of performance.

Accept reimbursement for participation expenses, take out accident or illness insurance for training or competing, accept prizes for competing if allowed by his governing body, receive royalties for his sport-related published writings, and accept a college scholarship.

Bettenhausen scrambling to stay ahead in Indy clockings

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Gary Bettenhausen finds himself in the same situation teammate Mark Donohue had a year ago during practice for the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Donohue, Newtown Square, Pa., was the speed leader for most of the 1971 "500" practice, but finished second in the chase for the pole position behind Peter Revson, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Teammate Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., has been the speed king thus far this May, but plenty of "hot dogs" are nipping at his heels in the chase for the pole, to be decided Saturday on the first of four weekend days of time trials for the May 27 race.

NBA-ABA all-stars selected

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wilt Chamberlain, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Rick Barry, Julius Erving and Jerry West headlined the cast of players who will participate in the second consecutive National and American Basketball Association all-star game at Nassau, N.Y. Coliseum on Thursday May 25.

The game, which will be televised on more than 200 stations across the country is being presented by the players' associations of both leagues and all gate receipts will be used for charitable and philanthropic purposes.

Also appearing for the NBA will be Oscar Robertson, Archie Clark, Walt Frazier, Dave DeBusschere, Bob Love, John Havlicek and Connie Hawkins.

The ABA players, in addition to Barry and Erving, include Willie Wise, Artis Gilmore, Dan Issel, Ralph Simpson, Jimmy Jones, Don Freeman, Zelmo Beaty and George Thompson.

Last year's game was played in the Houston Astrodome.

his top lap speed to an unofficial 191 miles per hour, as caught by stop watches in his pit and elsewhere, but not on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's electric timer. The best speed caught by the timer thus far was Bettenhausen's 190.315 m.p.h. Sunday. Official times are only those recorded in trials and the race itself.

Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., a former winner here, was back on the track Tuesday as a rebuilt engine and quickly posted a 188.442 m.p.h., the second best effort behind Bettenhausen. Unser, whose previous top speed this spring was 5 m.p.h. less than that posted Tuesday, had a week's layoff while his engine was shipped to California and rebuilt.

Revson, who set qualifying records of 179.354 and 178.696 m.p.h. for one and four laps last year, was dropped to third in the current speed contest. His best effort has been 188.324.

While there's no apparent clear-cut favorite for the pole position—awarded to the fastest car on the first round of time trials—there's no doubt Revson's qualifying records will be shattered.

Thirteen cars have gone faster than 180 m.p.h. so far this month, including two for the first time Tuesday.

Joining the "180 club" were Art Pollard, Medford, Ore., and former Indianapolis champ Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa. Andretti went 180.723. Pollard, out for the first time this month, had a lap of 180.252.

Eleven of the cars above 180 m.p.h. are powered by Offenhauser engines while Pollard and three-time winner A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., have passed that barrier in Fords.

In all 38 cars were on the track Tuesday, by far the busiest day of practice this year.

Besides Pollard, drivers out for the first time included Al Loquasto, Easton, Pa.; Lee Roy Yarbrough, Columbia, S.C.; Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio; Wally Dallenbach, East Brunswick, N.J., and Jimmy Caruthers, Anaheim, Calif.

Lee Brayton, Coldwater, Mich., passed his rookie drivers test.

NY keeps Stanley Cup alive

BOSTON (UPI)—Center Bobby Rousseau ended a 22-game drought with two third-period goals Tuesday night to keep the New York Rangers' Stanley Cup hopes alive with a 3-2 win over the Boston Bruins.

Rousseau, who had not scored against the Bruins the last 22 times the teams met, slammed in a 25-footer with 2:56 gone in the final stanza to lift the Rangers from a 2-1 deficit into a 2-2 tie.

He slapped in a 12-footer with 7:15 left in the game to give New York its winning margin.

The two teams move to New York for another game Thursday night where the Bruins, who now lead the series three games to two, will have an additional opportunity to wrap up their fifth Stanley Cup championship.

Rousseau beat Boston goalie Eddie Johnston with an ankle-high shot that Johnston got a glove on but couldn't control for the game-tying goal. He took a pass from winger Ted Irvine and beat Johnston on the stick side with the game-winner.

Johnston was removed from the Boston net for a six-man attack with 1:03 left.

The Bruins carried the play in the first period, outshooting New York 12-7 and grabbing a 2-1 lead.

Wayne Cashman slapped in a short shot during a scramble in front of the New York net with 3:55 gone for a 1-0 Boston lead.

The Rangers had a one-man advantage for the next four minutes as Don Awrey went to the penalty box for a pair of minor infractions.

Minico sets June tot classes

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

RUPERT — A summer kindergarten program will be operated for about 160 students at East Minico Junior High School in June.

The Minidoka County School board approved the faculty of teachers and aides during Monday night's meeting.

All teachers for the program were selected for their experience and training by Supt. Darrel Hatfield.

The teachers will include Esther Whiting, presently teaching reading at East Minico Junior High School; Ruth Sunderland, a first-grade teacher at Pioneer School; Constance Coit, fourth grade at Pershing; Mavis Hanks, third grade at Acequia; Sherry Montgomery, second grade at Heyburn; Renee Clark, sixth grade teacher at Washington; and Kathy Cailton, and Judy Moller, both first grade teachers at Paul.

The aides, all of whom have college training, will include Patricia Bonadiman, Grace Thaele, Susan Bell, Vicki Lynn Anderson, Annette Johnson, Susan Ballard, Marcia Blair and Joan Hatch.

The four alternate aides chosen were Kayleen Sunderland, Bernita Thaele, Bonnie Jean Baylor and Susan Stutzman.

Boyd Earl, principal at Heyburn Elementary School, has been named director of the summer program. He surveyed parents of pre-school children in the district, asking their preferences on length of sessions and hours of class each day.

Based on the survey the kindergarten sessions will run four weeks, from June 5 to June 30, with children in class from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily. Lunch will be served at the school.

Each class will include about 20 students. In other business the trustees accepted resignations of three teachers, including Margaret Riplinger, special education teacher at Minico High School; Mrs. Barbara Adams, fifth grade at Acequia, and Joyce Bottoms, second grade at Acequia.

Two employment applications were accepted, for Lori Kay Nelson, suggested as a replacement for Miss Bottoms, and Christine Hunsaker, qualified to teach special education.

The trustees also approved a recommendation from Hatfield that Pat Okelberry, girls track and volleyball coach, be granted teaching increments totaling $650 per year, but delayed action on a request from the drill team adviser.

Miss Okelberry will receive $400 additional salary for coaching volleyball and track and $250 as an assistant drill team coach.

The trustees approved text book adoption in spelling for second through eighth grade, as recommended by a text book committee. The texts will be made available in the school office for inspection of any school district patron, Hatfield said.

Hailey sewer rates opposed

BY TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — New Hailey water and sewer rates met more opposition Monday night.

Two Hailey women reported a difficulty in paying the new rates among single older residents who have fixed incomes. They presented a petition signed by about 50 residents, opposing the rates, to the City Council.

During the same meeting, the council adopted about 15 adjustments in commercial rates as a result of two meetings with local businessmen to "air out" rate complaints.

Ada Brodie, representing the signers of the petitions, said many of the petitioners received only about $100 in Social Security per month. She said the new rates were "an imposition" and said "we don't have that kind of money."

Under the new rate ordinance adopted last month, single residents pay $10.75 per month for sewer and water compared to the $13.50 rate for families.

Ana Downard said the single rate was still a "little steep" and single people could not use three-fourths as much sewer and water as families which have additional conveniences like automatic washers and dishwashers.

Mayor Lawrence Heagle said "it is not the policy of the city to make a profit" on the sewer and water rates. He said $67,000 was needed by January, 1973, to meet bond principal and interest payments and "far less than one-half" the normal yearly revenue will be raised this year because hookup installation didn't begin until April. In other action the council adopted in full 15 commercial rate adjustments recommended by the appraisal board which consists of the mayor, the systems engineer and the city clerk.

At the last meeting, local businessmen opposed the new rates with a main criticism centering on trade volume and the national figures used to compute the rates.

Mayor Heagle said as a result of the meeting two written applications seeking appraisal were received by the board. The remaining adjustments were made on the board's "own initiative," he said.

Monthly charges for the laundromat owned by Keith Bird were recomputed from five equivalent connections, a combined sewer and water rate of $13.50 a month per connection, to three connections. Earlier, Bird challenged the rates.

The total monthly bill for the Hiawatha Hotel, consisting of the hotel apartments, a saloon and a restaurant, was reduced from $260 to about $160.

Charges per individual seats for restaurants were reduced by one-half but the base rates of two equivalent connections remained.

FHA loan okayed at Wendell

WENDELL — The Farmers Home Administration has approved a $150,000 loan to the Wendell Housing Association for construction of a rental housing project.

Rep. Orvat Hansen said Monday the association, a community nonprofit organization, will build an apartment center with 12 living units arranged in six duplex buildings. Each unit will have two bedrooms and a living room, dining area and modernized kitchen and bath.

The project is intended to help relieve a shortage in the community of adequate rental housing that is priced within the means of senior citizens and other families living on modest income.

The housing center will be financed through the rural housing program administered by the FHA, a Department of Agriculture rural credit service. Edwin McNutt, Wendell, is president of the association.

Club meets

ALBION — The Junior Domestic-Kates 4-H Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Mary Amende and viewed food demonstrations.

Jeannie Long gave a demonstration on deviled eggs and Michelle Anderson demonstrated making sandwiches.

Colleen Reed gave a report on the health meeting. A discussion followed on teeth and Mrs. Amende showed the 4-H members how to clean their teeth.

Gooding center opening slated

GOODING — The Gooding County Senior Citizens Center will be open three days a week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. beginning in August.

Ground work for the center will begin in June when a director will be chosen, a building site located, community awareness developed and some activities planned. A director will be hired to start work in July at three days a week to be later extended to five days a week.

Ed Wimmer, program specialist for the Idaho Office on Aging, said local board members have drawn a tentative budget which will be presented to the state for funding.

Wimmer said the board should announce applications are being taken for the director's position. "Education is an essential part of the qualifications but is not the only factor as related experience could be substituted for education," he said.

The director will be paid $600 a month for the remainder of the year, with raises to be decided upon at a later date. In addition, the board will hire a secretary-bookkeeper at $2 an hour.

Mayor Harley Crippen said the city may be able to provide some bookkeeping services, which would count as in-kind services for the county's share of the program.

Wimmer told the board that volunteers are a very necessary part of the organization, and will be needed for travel and hostess services at the center.

The possibility of renting the VFW Hall for the center was considered.

Senior citizen event set

TWIN FALLS — Senior Citizen Agency representatives today reminded residents of Twin Falls that May has been proclaimed Senior Citizen Month by Gov. Cecil Andrus. During the month, agency representatives and senior citizens will be asking for support in their campaign to obtain a Senior Citizen Center for Twin Falls.

Such a center, said Robert Hale, agency director, would provide recreational, educational and cultural outlets for the retired and senior residents of the city.

He said efforts are being made to obtain a suitable building with all persons 65 years of age or older eligible for participation in the program.

Shoshone meet set on May 18

SHOSHONE — The industrial development committee of Shoshone Chamber of Commerce will meet at 8 p.m. May 18 at the Manhattan Cafe.

Robert Miller, chairman, said the group had intended meeting this week, but guest speaker, Bert Mitchell, Boise, could not make it until the May 1 date.

Mitchell will be explaining what is necessary to set up an industrial development corporation within the city.

Aims of the local committee, Miller said, are to work toward prompt proper growth within the area and one of the first aims will be to establish feasibility of forming the corporation.

TF okays agreement on lights

TWIN FALLS — An agreement with Idaho Power Co. for 4,000 hours of lighting per year on the downtown off-street parking lots was approved Monday by city officials.

The lights will be provided, two large units per lot, on a monthly fee basis under a 10-year contract at approximately $220 per month.

Council members tabled a request of Warren Barry for extension of city water to his proposed new subdivision about one quarter mile from the present water mains. City officials said a policy is being considered to meet all such requests on a uniform basis.

Council members tabled a request from Ed Boardard for use of Main Avenue for an art show June 15, 16 and 17, until the first meeting in June.

Contest set on hiring veterans

BOISE — A national poster contest for high school students with the theme "Hire a Veteran," was announced today by Donald Johnson, administrator of Veterans affairs.

Savings bonds will be awarded to local and state winners throughout the country. Local and state veterans groups and other service groups are participating in the contest.

The local and state competitions will produce three national winners who will receive trips to the nation's capital in October. The three will be guests of the annual Veterans Day national observance at Arlington National Cemetery on Oct. 23.

GF slates school rites

GLENN'S FERRY — A combined commencement and baccalaureate service will be held at the Glenn's Ferry High School Gymnasium on May 19 at 8 p.m.

Hal Barton, director of financial aid at Ricks College, will be the speaker.

Voter league to meet

TWIN FALLS — Current issues will be discussed at a Twin Falls League of Women Voters meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Steven Smith, 345 Teton Drive.

The morning league group met at 9 a.m. today for a similar discussion.

During the meetings Mrs. Forrest Hyman will discuss the league's study of the Regional Airport Authority. Mrs. Fred Stolt will explain results of the consensus on solid waste and air pollution.

Tom Nelson will discuss the White Clouds controversy and water quality. Mrs. Ward Pack will cover the area of education, mainly kindergartens and vocational education.

Local government issues, including detention, the city manager form of government and mental health will be discussed by Mrs. Steve Swope.

Mrs. Bill Hudley will discuss the league's consensus on congressional reform and give an updating on foreign trade.

Housing and human resources will be covered by Mrs. John Ricks.

Anyone interested in attending the meetings is invited. Babysitting is available for the Wednesday evening meeting by calling Mrs. Phyllis Gerber at 733-9889.

East U.S. blockade in 1962

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The last time the United States resorted to a naval blockade was a decade ago when President John F. Kennedy faced down Nikita Khrushchev and forced the Soviet Union to withdraw its nuclear missiles from Cuba.

Kennedy called the blockade a "quarantine" and announced it in a dramatic television address Oct. 22, 1962. It lasted less than a month and saw U.S. naval forces rushed into Cuban shipping lanes stop and search only one ship—a Panamanian vessel under charter to the Soviets.

Kennedy's "quarantine" was suspended Nov. 20 after it became evident they were dismantling and removing their missiles from Castro's Cuba.

Most observers believe that to be effective a blockade of North Vietnam's ports would have to last considerably longer. It is generally believed the North Vietnamese have enough war materiel stockpiled to sustain their forces for several months.

Naval blockades have been used several times in history—sometimes with success and at other times without notable success.

British attempts to blockade France during the Napoleonic wars of the 18th and 19th centuries were not too effective. The development of mines and later air power brought better success to efforts to blockade Germany in World Wars I and II.

The United States used a naval blockade against Cuba at the start of the Spanish-American War in 1898. American ships lying off the Cuban port of Santiago destroyed the bulk of the Spanish fleet in the Western Hemisphere on June 3, 1898, when the Spanish sailed out of the harbor and attempted to break the blockade.

Another blockade was used by the United States in 1954 in an attempt to halt arms shipments to a pro-communist government in Guatemala. U.S. authorities removed arms from a French freighter, stopped a Dutch freighter and stopped a shipment of ammunition in a West German port.

But the United States was on the receiving end of its first blockade. The United States went to war in 1812, goaded by the British fleet with American shipping. The British blockade severely curtailed American commerce.

"Let's have Sunday tomorrow!"

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you able, with care and thought, to put in motion some new arrangement that does have elements of risk or danger connected with it. However, the evening becomes very good for down-to-earth and practical matters that require a new and more expansive approach.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is the best time to handle any personal affairs that are important, since you have to spend the p.m. seeing that important higher-up. Get busy with practical matters in the afternoon. Pay bills.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you plan early what you will do all day and p.m., you get excellent results and fine benefits. Put that new plan to work where entertainment is concerned. Originality is the keynote.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is ideal for talking over new and old ideas with good friends and getting right slant on them. Know just how to get information you want. The afternoon is fine for working on new project.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Handle that new project carefully during the day. Later you can join with good friends for social activities. Bigwigs now appreciate your finest talents. They go out of their way to help you advance.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Unobtrusively go after that good pal who has influence and gain the backing you want for some personal desire that is yours. Consult with an adviser and get the ideas and information you need, also. Forget pretentiousness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get that obligation behind you as fast as you can so you free time for a new project or plan of real importance to you. Show you are broad-minded and get right results with it. Avoid gossip.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Cement better relations with a partner in a.m., so you can carry through together efficiently with jobs ahead. Find the right way to get more affection from mate. Show you are thoughtful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is excellent for catching-up on work ahead of you, but evening is fine for making better plans with associates. Buy that new suit or dress you like and need. Show you are style conscious.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want an end to worry and some entertainment, but wait the evening for the latter. Get some talent working to your benefit in the afternoon. Lift your spirits before you step out tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't take any chances where some family matter is important, or you will regret it later. Do some entertaining at home in p.m. You can investigate that new outfit during the day and start on the road to success.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have excellent plans for becoming more efficient and therefore more successful. Make appointments for calling your finest talents to the attention of the right people. Gain the support you want.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show you understand finances very well and do whatever will add to your present income now. Some expert in business gives good ideas, advice. Listen carefully and make notes so you do not forget salient points thereof.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those interesting young people who is full of impatience and it is important for you to teach early to complete whatever has been started so the work habit is formed while young. There is much ability in this chart, but it requires guidance and organization to bring it to the fore. Corporal punishment should be avoided at all cost, or you ruin the fine potential here. Kindness does the trick here admirably.

Police Score The Highest

A policeman rarely, if ever, whistles admiringly at a girl. Therefore, policemen rank No. 8 on the Parker Scale. This is a quaint measurement devised by that model-turned-actress Suzie Parker to gauge the flattering impact of the male whistle. Truck drivers rank No. 3. Cab drivers, No. 2. Sailors, minus 3. Jackhammer operators on construction jobs rank No. 5. They score not with whistles, however, but with sudden silence. Miss Parker is quoted as saying she would almost as soon shut down work at a building site as tie up traffic.

IF THAT youngster of yours has 11 dental cavities by age 16, said child is exactly average. TRUE, HEINZ still talks about its 57 varieties. But the fact is it now turns out more than 1,800 varieties. NOTE IT claimed in print a cucumber contains a higher percentage of water than does a glass of milk. Can't believe it.

CHINESE Best of the sign painters who draw letters freehand are of Chinese origin. Presumably, because of their early training with brushes. It's true, too, that all the balloon words in numerous different comic strips are actually lettered by one particularly gifted Chinese gentleman in New York City.

Q. "WHAT'S the most common surname in Russia?"
A. All I can tell you is "Ivanov" turns up more times in the Moscow telephone directory than any other name.

Idaho farm prices decline in April

BOISE Farm prices received by Idaho producers were slightly lower at mid-April compared with mid-March, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Decreases were noted for barley, mixed grain, alfalfa hay, steers and heifers, calves, hogs, milk and eggs. Wheat, beans, lambs and wool went up in price.

Livestock and livestock product prices were higher than year-ago levels, but prices received by farmers for wheat, potatoes, dry peas and alfalfa seed were lower than last year.

Average prices received by farmers are listed by commodity, unit, Idaho price as of April 15, price of March 15, and price a year ago:
